Two Transit Plans Before Public

Solons Can Create Bay Area Transit; 10¢ Tax Possible

Despite claims of endorsement from both Alameda and Contra Costa County civic leaders, proponents of the two-county transit district learned last Friday that the district is opposed by the Contra Costa County Commuters Association.

Thus, the Association, which speaks for Lafayette and Orinda commuters, joined the Walnut Creek City Council, the County Board of Supervisors and several other cities in opposing the district, which is described as a "feeder" system for the nine-county Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

Association President Douglas Buffington gave three reasons for the board of directors' vote against the district.

HE SAID, "The Association feels that a two-county system would not appreciably benefit eastern Contra Costa County; under the legislation as drafted, there would be no limit to the taxing power of the transit district; under the unique balloting arrangement, some areas in the district might be without public transportation."

However, the directors also voted to select in the near future candidates for the board of directors of the proposed system, in the event that it is approved by voters at the November 6 general election.

"Although we are opposed to the formation of the district, we want to be sure the residents and commuters of our area are adequately and intelligently represented in case the district is actually formed," Buffington added.

The district got on the November ballot by virtue of "yes" votes by eight cities in the two counties. Three of them in Contra Costa, Concord, El Cerrito and Pinole, voted to put the matter on the ballot.

LATER THE Walnut Creek Council and the County Supervisors came out against the District, after listening to Marston Campbell, San Francisco attorney criticize its plans.

The two-county district is reportedly endorsed by the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission.

With the matter definitely on the ballot, attention has focused on selection of directors to take over if the measure passes.

There are to be five wards, three in Alameda County, one in Contra Costa, and one containing border areas of both counties.

There are to be seven directors, one from each ward, and two-at-large. Charles P. Howard of Walnut Creek has been suggested as one candidate.

IN THE FIRST meeting to pick candidates, the Contra Costa full ward, corresponding with the 10th Assembly District, did not send a representative.

It was explained at the meeting, held in Oakland under co-Chairmen Charles Wright of Richmond and Sherwood Swan of Oakland, that, "If created, the transit district can sue or be sued in its own name, and will have the right of eminent domain, and in general all the rights and privileges of an incorporated city."

"It may borrow money, but shall incur no indebtedness exceeding the annual income of the district without approval of two-thirds of the voters.

Said Swan, "In the opinion of the Citizens Committee for passage of the district, the proposed legislation provides sufficient safeguards for all areas concerned, and will be a practical plan to help solve the future transit needs and problems of the growing counties of Alameda and Contra Costa."

The organization committee on August 28 voted to disband, since its job of getting the district on the ballot has been accomplished.

THE WALNUT CREEK council voted against the district, with only Councilman William von Tagen in favor of it.

The County Board of Supervisors was unanimously against the district.

Chairman H. L. Cummings said, "It apepars probable that Contra Costa will have only minority representation in controlling district affairs."

The supervisors were told by Robert Nisbet, Oakland assistant city attorney, and Clair McLeod, head of the former organization committee, that Contra Costa is guaranteed one director in seven, and "could possibly obtain three seats if the candidates were strong candidates."

Nisbet has made a junket in the county, submitting the district plans.

SAFETY was the topic at a Safety Council social gathering for the Lafayette area, held last Sunday at the Robert K. Smith home, 3695 Happy Valley Road. Among those present were, left to right: Seated—Mrs. Robert K. Smith, Mrs. Edwin R. Local Committee Formed To Combat Accident Rate

The tremendous toll accidents are taking in the community has motivated a group of Lafayette residents to form a local Emergency Committee of the Contra Costa Safety Council.

Realizing that this county is third highest in accident rate among 19 California counties, some 35 people gathered at a garden party Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Smith, 3965 Upper Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, for the purpose of organizing the committee.

With William Shannon, Lafayette chairman of the Safety Council, presiding over the business end of the patio assemblage, special guests at the party-meeting were Congressman John Baldwin, Sheriff Harry Brown, Assemblyman Donald Doyle and Dr. B. Otis Cobb.

BROWN AND Baldwin were appointed by Shannon as members of the newly-formed committee.

Appointed chairman of the volunteer committee was Robert Kahn. Mrs. Howell Janes is the new secretary.

Other committee members include:

Mrs. Gertrude Walker, Mr. and Mrs. James Hull, Dr. William R. Smith, and C. R. Wallace.

PURPOSE OF the committee, according to Shannon, is to raise funds for the Safety Council for its work as a Green Cross organization.

One of the first fund-raising affairs planned by the new group will be a dinner party in the near future at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Juras, 3291 Fair Holm Court.

Another committee project is sponsorship of several Lafayette teenagers in the Economy Run which will take place soon. This special "Run" is designed to teach young drivers the rules of safety and auto economy.

STRESSING THE aims of the safety group in talks at the party were Dr. Cobb, Safety Council president, and Assemblyman Doyle.

The group is the first Green Cross organization in Lafayette. Having contacted Captain R. R. Magill of the Highway Patrol, Shannon said the officer agreed to cooperate in any action for safety the group might take.

One of the major purposes of the committee will be to help the Citizens Action Force for Safety in Eastern and Central Contra Costa raise some $25,000 with which to establish a full scale safety operation.

Baker's Hand Caught in Mixer

Lafayette firemen came to the rescue Tuesday when baker Joe Russo of San Francisco, preparing for the opening of the new Huddle Inn restaurant, 3654 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, got his hand caught in a dough-mixing machine.

The baker accidentally got his left hand pinched under the beater blades of the dough machine and couldn't get loose.

A hurry call for assistance brought an emergency crew from the Lafayette Fire House, which removed the mixer and used a jack to ease the pressure of the blades on Russo's hand, so he could work it free himself.

The injured man was taken to a doctor's office here but examination showed no broken bones.

20-Acre Blaze Threatens Homes

A racing grass and brush fire, fanned by stiff winds, blazed over nearly 20 acres of hill land between Lafayette and Walnut Creek Tuesday before seven fire companies brought it under control.

Believed to have started from incinerator sparks, the fire burned from the upper end of Judith Lane eastward to Reliez Station Road.

Three trucks from the Lafayette Fire District, three from are Central Fire District in Walnut Creek and one from the Danville Fire District were brought in to halt the flames in the rugged terrain.

A close call was had by the Lafayette Fire Department Wednesday when a grass fire broke out on Happy Valley Road.

Also prompted by a stiff breeze, the blaze, which broke out about 2 p.m., was extinguished just before it got out of range of the small hoses from the fire trucks.

According to Assistant Chief E. Maxey, the fire "could have covered hundreds of acres if we hadn't stopped it when we did."

Put out in about 1½ hours, the blaze covered less than two acres.

The Lafayette firemen were called by Mrs. E. W. Rosston, 3913 Happy Valley Road, near whose home the flames started.

Man Flunks Test, Booked in W.C.

Booked at the county jail Sunday on drunk driving charges after flunking a sobriety test was John W. Hill, 37, 1441 Rancho View Drive, Lafayette.

He was arrested at 3:10 a.m. by Walnut Creek police while driving east on Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Improvers Plan October Night For Candidates

Directors of the Lafayette Improvement Association decided Wednesday night that a candidates' night will be held in October at a general membership meeting of the association at Lafayette Town Hall.

It was agreed that candidates for state and county offices will be invited to address the gathering. The board meeting was held at Town Hall.

Secretary Charles C. Baake reported that the association membership drive, under way since the beginning of the month, had resulted in about 357 family memberships, of which 108 were new.

He added that memberships were coming in at the rate of around 40 a day.

"We would like to have a membership of at least 600 families," Baake said.

He pointed out that dues are $1 per family, for the year from July 1, 1956 through June 30, 1957.

President George Walker conducted the board meeting.

Library Fund to Get Boost From Special Group

Perc S. Brown, general chairman of the Orinda Library Building Fund, announced today that Walter N. Boysen, president of the Orinda Country Club and prominent Pacific Coast industrialist, had accepted an invitation to head a special committee to secure major contributions to the fund.

Brown also announced that Mrs. Melvin Jacobus had volunteered to act as coordinator for Boysen and his committee.

THE SPECIAL committee will swing into action next month.

"Mr. Boysen and Mrs. Jacobus will add great strength to an already very strong group which is doing a terrific job in attaining the goal of $125,000 for this community project," Brown commented.

He added that Boysen will organize his own special committee immediately after returning from a short business trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

"WITH THIS new committee, under Mr. Boysen's dynamic leadership, and the other library groups functioning with widespread financial support from the community, the ultimate success of the Orinda Library is assured.

"There should be nothing to stand in the way of breaking ground as early next spring as weather conditions permit," Brown said.

CURRENTLY, the house-to-house solicitations committee, headed by Mrs. Donald Krotz, is calling on the close to 500 Orinda homes not yet contacted.

Brown expressed the hope that efforts from these solicitations "equal or exceed the average attained from the June solicitation."

Commuters Are Against 2-County District on Ballot

Headed for the California Legislature, if approved by the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission, are plans for the billion-dollar rapid transit district, initially to contain four counties, including Contra Costa, and part of a fifth.

The mammoth district, which may expand to include other counties later on, can become a reality by merely a legislative act.

It will have the power to tax up to 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, but any bond issue to provide a new transit system must be passed in an election.

The entire cost of the district, and completion of transit facilities yet to be decided upon, has been estimated at $1,890,000,000.

FINANCING through the sale of bonds, will be projected over a thirty-year period.

The benefits and expense will initially fall to the counties of San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo and Contra Costa, and that part of Santa Clara County within the Palo Alto city limits.

Directorships on the transit district board will be according to population, and will be appointed by Boards of Supervisors, and where there are more than two to a county, the additional directors by the governor of California.

BY THE 1950 census, Contra Costa County will get two directors, San Francisco, 4, Alameda, 3, San Mateo, 1, and Santa Clara, 1.

Marin County is not included in the plan, so far, because of a dispute over whether rapid transit rails could be installed on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The transit district has been visualized by the New York firm of Parson, Brinckerhoff, Hall and MacDonald, which was retained to lay out plans. Their fee amounted to $750,000.

The original tax would set up the district, allow engineering studies, development of final plans, and recommendations.

THE ACTUAL work would require passage of the bond issue. A "first stage" would cost $875,000,000, and would provide for an underwater tube joining Oakland and San Francisco. Extension of the rails into the other counties as far east as Dublin, 10 miles east of Walnut Creek, would cost another $1 billion.

The end product is seen as a mono-rail system carrying 60 mile-per-hour trains over a 123-mile network, and at 90 second intervals in peak hours, over the Bay Area.

This is the answer to crowded conditions on the northern California freeways, say proponents.

The Transit Commission is expected to study the plans with great care.

THE MAYORS Conference of Alameda County recently voiced general approval of the system.

The committee which drafted the plans included Clair W. MacLeod of Piedmont, A. Hubbard Moffitt Jr., of Alameda, Marvin Lewis, Alan K. Browne and Arthur Doland, all of San Francisco.

They commented recently that it will be important that all portions of the district be properly represented on the transit district board of directors.

Planners to Face Route Study Today

Extensive arguments about routing of the western leg of the future Shepherd Canyon Freeway will be further studied by the County Planning Commission at 1:30 p.m. today.

Today's meeting, in the meeting room of the County Administration Building, Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez, has been called for the specific purpose of considering the various presentations made to the commission Tuesday night.

Associate County Planner Anthony DeJesus, in charge of the zoning section of the commission's technical staff, said yesterday that the commissioners hope to reach decision today on whether to recommend that the Board of Supervisors request the California Highway Commission consider the effect of the various proposed routes on "community values."

"The idea is to make a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors in time for the board to act prior to the October 3 California Highway Commission hearing at Miramonte High School in Orinda," DeJesus said.

TODAY'S MEETING is open to the public, but the Planning Commission hearing on "alignment of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway from Bollinger Canyon Road to the tunnel that will bisect the hills between Oakland and Contra Costa County" was closed about midnight Tuesday, after a 3½-hour session.

The Planning Commission hearing was on the general highway plan for the county as it involves the western leg of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway.

ARGUING AGAINST the state-favored route (No. 4) an approximate straight-line course through the vicinity of Miramonte High School and Moraga townsite — were:

Attorney Dana Murdock, appraiser Zura Bells, Eldridge Lovelace of Harland Bartholomew and Associates, William Zion and Attorney Bestor Robinson, all representing Utah Construction Company, and planning consultant Herman Ruth and Attorney Robert Thaman, both representing the Orinda-Moraga Valley Homeowners — a group of six neighborhood associations in the southern Orinda area.

These six neighborhood associations are the Lincoln Estates, Moraga del Rey, Ranchitos de Moraga, Lost Valley, Inland Valley and Moraga Woodlands associations.

ARGUING IN FAVOR of the state-proposed route were:

Thomas Twomey, assistant dean of St. Mary's College; John Thune and Edward Bisiar, both representing the Moraga Valley Community Club, and Ed Clay, representing the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council and the Pleasant Hill Civic Council.

Murdock introduced the other speakers for Utah Construction Company, and Robinson summarized the various arguments by Utah Company representatives.

Bells contended that route No. 4 would lower business property values by $1.22 per square foot from the estimated $3.82 figure if route No. 3 — swinging south of Moraga townsite — were used. He claimed property values would be reduced by $12,535,000.

LOVELACE DECLARED that the state-favored route "would seriously impair community values in the Moraga area." He stated that this impairment would result from the route's:

"1. Badly scarring the topography and reducing the attractive character of the valley by heavy cuts and fills.

"2. Cutting the land into triangular parcels difficult to use.

"3. Being poorly related to the most advantageous land use arrangement.

"4. Cutting the center of the community off from its major residential population."

ZION, presenting an "Analysis of Property Ownership in Relationship to the Shepherd Canyon Freeway," cited the following to show "overwhelming opposition" in the area to route No. 4:

Owners in favor of route 4 — 152; opposed, 3406; on an acreage basis — owners of 2[illegible]2 acres in favor; owners of 6111 acres opposed; on an assessment basis — valuations of $796,340 in favor; valuations of $10,125,867 opposed; local property taxes, 1955-56 — $39,433.58 in favor; $644,106.50 opposed.

Zion said he based his figures on presentations at the June 21 Shepherd Canyon Freeway hearing before the State Division of Highways at Miramonte High School.

RUTH STATED that the Indian Valley route, south of No. 3 and north of the Redwood Canyon route (No. 1), would be best for an over-all highway plan. (The Indian Valley route is designated as No. 2).

Thaman stressed the new state law, effective since last July, which requires the California Highway Commisison, when requested to do so and when supplied with relevant data, to consider the relation of a highway or freeway to "community values."

Thune pointed out that the state-favored route would be the shortest, and he said, "It will save the motoring public $1 million a year and is the least costly to the taxpayers to construct."

SELECTION OF route 4, he adedd, would also save possible park areas in Redwood Canyon and Indian Valley.

Bisiar declared that requests for southerly routes are "an attempt of the vested interests."

Clay emphasized the need for park sites. He said of the Redwood Canyon area, "We want it for parks — and if we don't get it, some heads are going to roll."

C. F. GREENE, assistant district engineer for the State Division of Highways, told the Planning Commisison that the state highway engineers recommended route No. 4 after taking into account traffic service, community values and cost.

He said that only 28 acres of flat land would be taken for the state-favored route, as against 71 acres for any alternate.

Greene added: "Our survey did not take in any dwellings for the right-of-way, and the nearest house is 500 to 600 feet away. We do not think a well-constructed freeway is a barrier."

Picket and Sign Still Stationed at Dime and Dollar

A man with a sign continues to pace up and down before the door of the Lafayette Dime and Dollar Store, 3543 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, as he has for the past 16 months.

The man represents Local 1179 of the Retail Clerks Union. His sign asks passers-by not to patronize Dime and Dollar on the grounds that the variety store is "unfair."

THE UNION LOCAL has been picketing the store since March 10, 1955, after attempts by the union to organize the Dime and Dollar clerks had failed. Officials made their first attempts at unionizing the store early in 1955, according to Dime and Dollar owner Ken Jensen.

Jensen stated that he "permitted union officials to talk to my employees, but the clerks refused to be organized."

The union, evidently feeling that the store was not cooperating in the efforts at unionization, then staked out the pickets.

In May of last year, the picketing force was reduced to one man, who has put in a full day of walking, six days a week, ever since.

SINCE THE protest gesture was initiated, several attempts at conciliation between Jensen and the union have been made. All of them, according to Jensen, have failed.

The latest meeting came last month, Jensen told The Sun.

"I talked to union officials," he said, "but they still insisted that my employees organize."

Apparently, no progress has been made in the negotiations.

"I CAN'T SEE that the situation has changed any in the past 18 months," the owner said.

Orinda Man Missing From Shasta Boat

Ernest Laird, a stationery store owner of 106 Rheem Boulevard, Orinda, went fishing on a small bay at Lake Shasta Monday and did not return. His boat, containing his cap and fishing pole, was found drifting and unoccupied that night.

Laird and his wife had gone to the lake for a vacation. They were staying at the Bridge Bay Resort.

According to Under-sheriff Rex Pursell of the Shasta County Sheriff's office, Laird went out alone in his own boat about 3:30 p.m. Monday.

When his boat was found about 7 p.m., the fishing pole was resting over the side, its broken line dangling in the water of the bay.

As no trace of Laird has yet been found, Pursell told The Sun that "he must have drowned."

"IT APPEARS that he probably got tangled in the fishing line as he fell in the water," the under-sheriff stated, explaining the broken line.

Searchers, some in helicopters, have been vainly searching the area for traces of the man.

BLOODHOUNDS, employed in the search, picked up only one scent in the area, at a spot on the bay's bank where an observer said he spotted a man about 6:30 Monday standing in his boat, fishing.

Pursell said the sheriffs are assuming that the spotted man was Laird.

James Laird, 39 Claremont Avenue, Orinda, the missing man's son, said his father had had a seizure several years ago which was diagnosed as a mild heart attack.

PURSELL STATED that, because of the depth of the bay and the size of the lake, dragging the bottom for the body was impossible.

EXPLORER POST 300 of Orinda recently "roughed it" in the Canadian wilderness. Canoes were the main mode of transportation. JOHN HALL proved to be one of the expert fishermen on the week-long adventure. Here he's skinning one of the fish he caught. John and the others will vouch for the edibility of their catches.

ED RINNE proudly displays one o the results of his angling skill. The boys and their adult leaders traveled some 200 miles up rivers and lakes in the Quetico area of Ontario.

Citizens Seek Formation of Water District

By BOB RAPIDA

Meeting in emergency session Wednesday night, the Citizens Water Committee Executive Board drafted a proposal asking the formation of an independent water district.

Following the decision of the Public Utilities Commission granting the California Water Service Company an approximate 30 per cent increase in water rates, the Citizens Committee drafted a letter to all Civic, Service, Fraternal and Social organizations of the affected area asking them to send representatives to a meeting Wednesday night, 8 p.m. at Fair Oaks School in Pleasant Hill.

FRANK HANRAHAN will preside at the meeting, Craig Randall will speak on the area water problem and point out some of the technical aspects in the formation of a water district.

Yank Marcus will make a presentation of the legal aspects and will secure the services of a deputy district attorney who will interpret the legal code controlling the formation of a water district.

Hanrahan stated that the area which would be included in the new water district, if it were formed, would be Pleasant Hill Concord, parts of Walnut Creek perhaps Port Costa. Port Chicago was mentioned.

CROCKETT IS seeking to form its own water district.

The representatives will be asked to return to their parent organizations after the Wednesday meeting and ask the aid of the group in establishing a water district.

"The consumers of California Water Service have been spared $200,000 annually through the efforts of the Citizens Water Committee. In the six areas in which Cal Water asked for an increase ours is the only one which was spared from the entire amount requested," said Hanrahan.

"Whether or not such a district is formed is, of course, up to the voter. If the entire matter is brought to a vote and passes we hope to set up a temporary water district for the period of one year and conduct a thorough study of future needs and financing.

"IF THE STUDY proves we can get better water, cheaper, then the water district would again be put to a vote and made permanent, if passed," he continued.

"If the study shows we can not get cheaper and better water then we would retain the services of the present water system.

"Realtors are very aware of this water situation, property values are taking a beating because of the high water rates," he remarked.

"California Water Service was granted a rate increase in 1951 and now again this week. What will keep Cal Water from claiming in one or two years that it is not receiving enough return on its investment and the public utilities commission may grant another 30 or 40 per cent increase. We must think of the future," Hanrahan added.

TUESDAY NIGHT Mayor George Krueger of Concord at the City Council meeting stated that public ownership of water would again be studied by the city fathers at the September 24 meeting.

"It is our feeling that public ownership is the only answer to our problems. At the City Council's September 24 meeting John Baldwin, representative, will meet with us and we will be able to progress at a much faster clip," commented Krueger to spectators.

Hanrahan pointed out that the $15 water bill for September will become a $19.50 bill by November 1. The rate increase for the entire California Water Service area becomes effective October 1 by order of the Public Utilities Commission.

In the three hour session Wednesday night the executive committee, consisting of Bob Weiben, Hanrahan, Frank Hoff and Joyce Barnum decided that the entire population in the CWS area should be informed of every step in the formation of a district.

"A PRELIMINARY STUDY would have to be made and presented to the Boundary Commission. A vote of the general public must be made and a board of directors established. We must move quickly but must remain cautious that we know every facet of the entire situation prior to forming our permanent district, if and when we ever do," Hanrahan warned.

"If every organization sends a representative to Fair Oaks School we will be much closer to the realization of better water service at cheaper rates for the entire California Water Service domain," concluded Hanrahan.

"CWS points to continued inflation, increased taxes, a phenomenal growth which has added an average of about 2000 new services per year to the system during the past four years, higher costs of pumping, yearly wage increases and a continuing spiral of higher construction costs as being the causes which have persuaded it to seek further rate relief. It further points to the fact that it has not realized the rate of return intended by the Commission in the last rate proceeding," said Mrs. Barnum.

"IF THIS IS the case and the water company sees such great expansion in the area what will our water bills be five or ten years from now?" was the question posed by Mrs. Barnum.

The meeting Wednesday will be open to the general public. All are requested by the committee to be at the multi-purpose room by 8 p.m.

Locals are Keeping Sharp Lookout for the 'Last Rose of Summer'

Someone once sang the laments of the "Last Rose of Summer."

Keeping that melancholy melody in mind, many local eyes have been keeping sharp lookout for that symbolic little flower.

The signs that summer is waning aren't too obvious, with the thermometer having reached 85 on a few occasions this week. But folks look at the calendar, and know that the heat can't last much longer.

The low reading in local communities was recorded in Lafayette, a chilly 41, but cool weather was felt in the other local areas as well.

Following is the week's reading:

Chamber Examines PWD Proposal

Industrial Subdivision Gets Talk

By NORMAN COLBY

A suggestion aimed towards making Walnut Creek's "planned working district" more attractive to industrialists seeking new sites was submitted by City Engineer Larry Milnes to the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, Tuesday night.

Milnes' proposal, which he described as "only a thought which the board may choose to consider," was that plans be drawn up for an "Industrial Subdivision."

Like a residential subdivision, it would provide for streets, sewer, water and gas lines, and an electric system based on a tentative division of some 65 acres into lots, made available to the purchaser singly or in multiples.

THE PROJECT would involve considerable expense, Milnes replied later to a Sun query.

Other cities, admittedly larger than Walnut Creek, have taken such steps to entice big industries, and have succeeded, said Milnes, citing San Jose, Fresno and San Leandro.

The Chamber directors took this and several other projects suggested by local city councilmen under consideration.

If made, a study would be by the Chamber's Industry Committee, under Chairman George Connor.

EARLIER THIS year, the councilmen were surprised when Hexcel Products, Inc., of Oakland, which had announced plans to build a $750,000 plant in the Planned Working District, decided to locate in Pleasant Hill, where there are no city taxes.

The desirability of utility lines already installed was commented upon at that time by Paul Ammen of Orinda, company president.

Only enterprise which definitely plans to locate in the PWD area so far is the Applied Radiation Corporation, which now is at 1200 Springbrook Road.

IT WILL have two buildings, valued at $160,000. The work has already been started by the American Construction Company of San Leandro.

The company itself recently sold a half interest to Archer Daniels Midland Company of Minneapolis, which is experimenting with treating food with radiation to preserve it.

The Planned Working District is generally in the northern part of the city, bounded on the west by Main Street, north by the city limits, east by the Southern Pacific tracks, and south by Green Village Road.

Theft is Reported

Mrs. Richard Merrill of 1151 Granger Street, Walnut Creek, reported to police Monday that her car, a comforter and two pieces of luggage were taken from her home. No forcible entry was made at the home.

3 Rezoning Pleas Draw Supervisors' Approval for PH

Three Pleasant Hill requests for rezoning were approved Tuesday by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors in Martinez.

The three requests had all been approved by the Planning Commission last week.

Property of Robert Cambra and Henry Soehner was rezoned from multiple residential to a retail business district in the east Pleasant Hill area.

J. B. Bruzzone was granted permission to rezone from residential suburban to general commercial at the intersection of Monument Boulevard and Oak Grove Road in line with other zoning in the area.

A request by the planning commission for rezoning of property bounded on the east and south by the Sacramento Northern Railroad, west by Hookston Road and Southern Pacific Railroad and on the north by Monument Boulevard was approved and property rezoned from transition residential agricultural to a residential suburban district.

In other action the board allocated $9000 from flood control funds which will be used for clearing of drainage channels in the county. Prison farm labor will be used for the task.

'Illegal' Pin Ball Machine Found In Operation

At least one multiple play pinball machine is in operation in one Walnut Creek tavern, The Sun was informed this week.

The machine, a 5 balls for 25 cents type, is an illegal device in the City of Walnut Creek. Other multiple play machines in Walnut Creek were found to be "legal" inasmuch as only one coin could be inserted for each five balls played.

All multiple type machines observed within the City Limits of Walnut Creek could be operated on the multiple play basis once the player had won "free" games on the machine.

Price for playing the machines in Walnut Creek ranges from five cents for five balls to 25 cents for five balls.

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors recently tabled a proposal by Harry A. Brown, Sheriff of Contra Costa, making all pin-ball machines illegal in the county.

An opinion handed down by the Attorney General's office in 1951 states that pin-ball machines which are predominantly a game of skill are subject to the laws governing slot machines and are therefore illegal.

MD Trustees Call For Site Study In Walnut Creek

Trustees of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District Tuesday night instructed architects to study a 16 acre site in Walnut Creek as possible location for an elementary school.

The trustees ordered the survey to determine if the land or portions of the land should be purchased by the school district.

The parcel is located on the west side of Larkey Lane near Essenay Avenue. The former Pleasant Hill neighborhood indicated in a survey released last week they were in favor of remaining in the Mt. Diablo School District.

A new high in enrollment in the district was revealed by the trustees. The mark is now 22,179. Students on double session in the entire district number 2553. Approximately 325 of the 2553 will go on regular session as soon as construction of classroom additions in the district are completed.

Pleasant Hill Schools of the District on double sessions are Strandwood, Gregory Gardens, Diablo Vista and Fair Oaks.

PH Commute Book Rate Hearing Postponed Again

Hearing of the highly controversial commute book rate for Pleasant Hill commuters utilizing Greyhound Bus Lines was postponed until October 8 by the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday in San Francisco.

E. A. Bagby, speaking for Greyhound, stated Greyhound had expected the Contra Costa County Commuters Association would have additional evidence and witnesses at the Wednesday meeting and Greyhound was not prepared to make a presentation. Company officials were not able to appear at the hearing, he said.

Leroy Sowers, speaking on behalf of the Commuters Association, stated the organization seeks a commute rate for persons utilizing Greyhounds Martinez-Berkeley service to Acalanes Junction near the cross-roads of Pleasant Hill Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

At present commuters using the Martinez-Berkeley service wishing to reach points in San Francisco and Oakland must transfer at the Acalanes Junction to San Francisco or Oakland buses where commute rates are available.

Greyhound in the fall of 1955 asked the case be dismissed. Bagby said Greyhound would again present a motion to the PUC that the complaint be dismissed at the October 8 hearing, according to Ray Riordan, assistant special representative of the Public Utilities Commission.

"This action by Greyhound is just another subterfuge for delay," said Sowers.

PH Robbers Killed in Gun Duel by Dying State Cop

Two youths, identified as the armed robbers of Bert's Market on Boyd Road and terrorizing the Duane Diller home on Leslie Drive, were shot and killed by a dying State Highway patrolman near Orland (Glenn County) Sunday.

The two were identified as Corporal Everett Lee Harkey of Oakland and Private Kenneth James Nelson of Martinez. The two were Marines absent without leave from Camp Pendleton.

Killed in the gun battle on Highway 99W was Patrolman Charles Smith of Willows. He was mortally wounded by three bullets in the back when gunfire blazed from the car, driven by Nelson, which he had stopped for speeding.

According to an eyewitness Patrolman Smith stopped the car and when the officer ordered the passenger (Harkey) out and they started back for the patrol car the driver (Nelson) fired five shots, three of which struck the officer in the back.

Though mortally wounded Smith fired three shots as Harkey jumped back in the car and Nelson started the engine.

The officer fell dead.

Nelson died instantly from a bullet behind the ear, Harkey died at Glenn General Hospital of a bullet wound between the eyes.

The robbery at Bert's Market netted the hoodlums $100. At the Diller home, and two other homes terrorized in Martinez, nothing was taken.

Four Injured In Explosion

Three firemen were injured fighting a gasoline blaze in the Frank Breckenridge home, 205 Roberta Avenue, Pleasant Hill, Sunday.

Breckenridge's clothing was set afire in the explosion and he suffered minor burns of the hands and feet.

While pouring gasoline into the tank of his wife's car in the garage Breckenridge heard the water heater turn on and walked over to turn it off. He told Bill Nottingham, fire district chief, as he reached the heater the gasoline can exploded spraying the garage with flames. Damage was estimated at $7500 by fire inspectors.

Bart Brown, a neighbor, and Breckenridge tried to quell the flames with a hose until fire fighters arrived.

Injured during the blaze were Bill Shisler, Hank Wilson, and Archie Nottingham. They and Breckenridge were treated by physicians.

The wife and three children of Breckenridge were on the patio at the time of the explosion. A fourth child was away.

A large crowd was attracted by the blaze and delayed the arrival of fire equipment.

Goods Stolen From Parked Car in PH

A whitewall tire and a large box of samples were stolen from a closed car left overnight in the street in Sherman Acres, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office Monday.

The car owned by James Moore of 65 Cleopatra Drive was locked, but according to the sheriff's report, the extra tire and samples were removed after the car was forced open. Two other boxes of camples were left untouched.

MD Firemen Get Work Week Slash

A cutback in working hours has been promised firemen on the Mt. Diablo Fire Protection District by commissioners by October 1.

The reduction in the work week will be from 72 hours to 67½ hours asked by the Mt. Diablo Local of the International Fire Fighters Association.

Commissioners Frank Rose and Joe DeRosa with Ray Mangini, fire chief, have been asked to study the work cut and determine whether or not uniform working conditions are being met throughout the area.

Association representative Mike Irby contends that the firemen are among the lowest paid in a department of its class.

CWS Granted 30 Per Cent Rate Increase for Water

California Water Service Company was granted an approximate 30 per cent increase in rates by the Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco Tuesday.

The company had asked for a 40.3 per cent increase but in the opinion of the PUC "an increase of the magnitude sought is not justified and if granted would place an unreasonable burden upon applicant's customers."

THE NEW RATE will be in effect October 1 throughout the California Water Service Company area. Basic rates for Pleasant Hill, portions of Walnut Creek, Danville, Concord, Clayton, Port Costa, Port Chicago and Crockett will be 36 cents per 100 cubic feet for first 30,000 cubic feet of water and 27 cents per 100 cubic feet over 30,000.

MONTHLY METER charges under the new rate will be:

For ⅝ by ¾ inch meters, $2.70 per month; ¾ inch meter, $3.00; 1 inch meter, $3.50; 1½ inch meter, $6; 2 inch meter, $9; 3 inch meter, $16; 4 inch meter, $21; 6 inch meter, $32; 8 inch meter, $43; 10 inch meter, $60; and 12 inch meter, $90.

Portions of the conclusions of the PUC are as follows:

"In view of the evidence and after careful consideration of the views and arguments of all parties we find as a fact that applicant has demonstrated its need for and entitlement to increased revenues. We are of the opinion, however, that an increase of the magnitude sought is not justified and if granted would place an unreasonable burden upon applicant's customers."

"WE SHALL AUTHORIZE rates which are designed to produce an increase of approximately 30 per cent in gross revenues.

"Such an increase should produce the following results of operations, and we hereby find the indicated revenues, expenses, rate base and rate of return to be fair and reasonable. Under the authorized rates for water service, any net revenues which applicant may attain in excess of those indicated will arise primarily from economies and increased efficiencies in applicant's operations of the water system," states the report.

Persons opposing the rate increase were Robert T. Anderson, for the Citizens Water Committee; Milton J. Gordon, for the Cities of Walnut Creek and Crockett; Thomas McBride for Concord. Pleasant Hill Civic Council and Pleasant Hill were represented by Maurice S. Marcus, Sidney Golman and Thomas Coll appeared for person affected.

SENATOR GEORGE Miller Jr. appeared on behalf of his constituents, Frank Hanrahan for affected parties, John Nejedly for Crockett, A. Rodriquez for Crockett.

Robert Minge Brown appeared for the applicant, CWS.

Sewer Board Candidates Tell Views on District

Voters in the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District will elect three directors to the five-man Board of Directors of the district Monday.

There are four candidates. Three of them are incumbents Irving C. Roemer, Ernest I. Spiegl and Frank W. Salfingere. The fourth is M. H. Stanley.

The Sun asked each candidate for a brief statement in answer to the question, "What in your opinion do you think can be done to improve the Sanitary District?" Here are their answers.

Irving Roemer

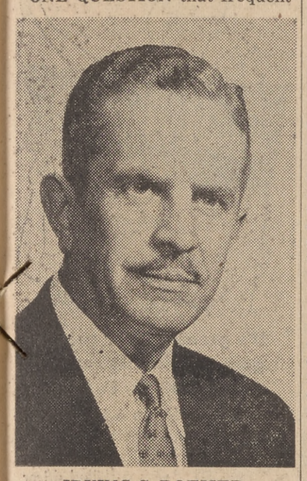
I am peased to report that the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District is in excellent condition.

After four years of service as a member of the board I can state with confidence that the management and personnel of the district are competent and efficient.

It has been a difficult and trying four years because of the fact that the facilities of the district have been so inadequate for the population served that all of us have been faced constantly with problems that have been most critical.

Now you have passed a bond issue that affords the district the means to correct its deficiencies at a tax rate below that which we have been paying. It is my hope that you will elect men to the board who have an understanding of district affairs and an overall picture of the manner in which our money must be spent to provide adequate facilities for the entire drainage area at a constantly reducing cost.

ONE QUESTION that frequently is asked by interested citizens is why we have annexed and expanded throughout the period when our facilities have been overtaxed.



IRVING C. ROEMER

The answer is a simple one.

Expansion within reasonable topographical limits reduces the unit cost for the services rendered by the district. With or without a successful bond issue we were faced with the fact that added facilities must be had and paid for. It is only logical that the cost of these facilities should be spread among as many present and future users as possible.

THROUGH THIS philosophy your unit cost of operation has been greatly reduced and your tax rate is presently going down.

Furthermore, your neighbor's sanitary problems are yours too. It is short-sighted to form and restrict a district of this kind and permit it to be surrounded by areas with sanitary problems.

Our district is presently in need of nothing but sound understanding direction.

M. H. Stanley

I have lived in the district for 32 years and I am thoroughly acquainted with the tax structures within its boundaries. I feel that I am one of the best qualified candidates because:

1. I was one of the original persons instrumental in forming the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

2. I served with the Lafayette Water District for 20 years. The bonds will be retired this year and the district dissolved. I am active with the Pleasant Hill Water District, which I have been serving for 17 years.

3. I WAS ONE of the original trustees for the Acalanes High SSchool District, serving 17 years and resigning this year.

4. I served on the board of the Lafayette School District for 26 years, and have the honor of having the M. H. Stanley School named after me.

M.H. STANLEY

5. I was one of the original commissioners of the Lafayette Fire District and served over 20 years as commissioner.

6. I was chosen by the community as "Man of the Year" in Lafayette.

BECAUSE OF THESE reasons, I feel I am well-qualified to serve as a director of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District. I have resigned from the high school district and have plenty of time to place my energies in Sanitary District activities.

I can be called upon and reached at any time that any emergency may arise and that is important to the district.

TWO YEARS AGO I served 18 months on the Sanitary District Board. I had been appointed by the directors to fill an unexpired term of one of the resigning directors.

The present bond issue that was recently passed by the people of the district is in accord with my views. I believe that as the district grows, new residents will be paying their share of the improvement and enlargement.

I believe much economy must be used in expending funds to relieve taxpayers of the heavy tax burden.

Frank W. Salfingere

You have asked me to discuss the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District in connection with my desire to serve again on the Board of Directors for the district.

The past four years gave me an opportunity to discharge a civic duty, which I feel too many of our citizens shy away from, in the belief that an active participation in the daily pattern of living in the community is just a lot of extra work and their efforts are not appreciated.

The Board of Directors as now constituted has developed a strong sense of loyalty on the part of the staff personnel in their daily duties; a sound financial structure has been worked out to the benefit of the taxpayers in the district and for those who will move into our area.

WE HAVE SERIOUSLY and methodically worked out a series of ordinances which spell out in detail the cost to connect to the sanitary district, a cost which is equitable to all persons. It does not favor one group at the expense of individuals.

We are following a master plan of sewerage collection which was developed by an outstanding firm of consulting engineers.

During the past four years the tax for retirement of bonded indebtedness and system operation has been consistently reduced.

FRANK W. SALFINGERE

THE PRESENT BOARD is not a "yes" Board of Directors but it is working harmoniously for the common interests of our district.

I have done my part in helping to make the district more efficient and I would like very much to stay on the board to see that the policies this board has developed are carried out in detail as we have planned them.

Ernest Spiegl

When the three directors whose terms expire next week were elected four years ago, they found the district in a sad condition.

Legal limitation on original financing and unanticipated population growth had combined to make the sanitary facilities obsolete almost before they were built.

The new board commenced a double approach to this problem.

By assessing the maximum legal tax rate, it was able to maintain the flow and treatment of sewage in a constantly increasing amount, accompanied by some mechanical failures.

IN ORDER to alleviate the latter and provide against reoccurrence, it planned a system that would adequately handle foreseeable growth for the next 20 years.

To this end it embarked upon a three-year study which culminated in the Brown and Caldwell report which is on file in every public library in the county. This report was adopted by the board, and sets forth all plans for future development.

In order to finance such development the board undertook prolonged financial studies which resulted in the recent successful bond election.

In placing that issue before the people, the board (individually and collectively) pledged themselves to use the bond proceeds for the development set forth in the report, and further, to so use those funds that, commencing with the year 1957-58, district taxes would be lowered.

THESE PLEDGES have a decided influence upon my candidacy for reelection.

I have no personal desire to serve as a board member for another four years. In fact, I had determined not to file for reelection.

However, my colleagues, friends and conscience all reminded me that my pledge to the electorate required that I allow the latter to determine whether I should remain in a position to keep that pledge.

A man out of office is in no position to carry out campaign promises. Contrarywise, a candidate who took no part in the studies (and whose only experience was as an interim appointee who was repudiated by the electorate at the next election) is not in the best position to do the expressed will of the people.

If, however, the voters should prefer the latter, I shall accept the same with a feeling of personal relief.

School Contracts Awarded; High School Open in 1960

Acalanes High School District trustees have awarded contracts totaling $270,000 to Pacific Coast Builders, low bidders on projects which include a Miramonte multi-use room to be a cafeteria and a little theatre.

Approval of construction to start immediately at Miramonte also provides for construction of four tennis courts, adjoining corridors to the multi-use room, a parking area, and a road and service facilities for school buses.

The multi-use room will be completed in time for the 1957-58 opening of school.

Trustees accepted as complete construction of six classrooms at Las Lomas and classrooms, a library and school offices at Miramonte, all of which are now in use.

School Shift Hearing Set For Nov. 20

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday scheduled a public hearing for November 20, 10 a.m., on proposed transfer of a small portion of the Briones School District to the Orinda Union School District.

Scheduling of the hearing was on recommendation of B. O. Wilson, county superintendent of schools.

Proponents are the parents of about 10 grammar school children in the Briones district who now attend school in the Orinda district, as agreed to in an inter-district transfer arrangement.

THE FAMILIES concerned live along Bear Creek Road, the county schools office stated yesterday.

Wilson, in a letter to the supervisors, reported that the County Boundary Commission had approved the proposed boundaries for the area suggested for transfer to the Orinda district.

WILSON'S OFFICE yesterday said that Deputy District Attorney Charles L. Hemmings had given an opinion that the transfer would not jeopardize Orinda district and Acalanes High School District bonds.

The petition for transfer pointed out that topographically the section involved logically belongs in the Orinda district. It also stated that the area is closer to Acalanes High School than it is to Alhambra High School.

PEDESTRIAN RIGHTS

Many motorists seem to forget that in the eyes of the law a pedestrian has just as much right to walk on the highway as a motorist has to drive on it, says the California State Automobile Association. There must be equal respect for the rights of each if accidents are to be avoided.

School Leaders Confer on CD

Superintendents of the elementary and high school districts in the Acalanes District area recently met to study civil defense procedures as they affect schools.

They decided to send a letter to parents questioning what should be done with students who are in school during the unexpected occurrence of a civil defense emergency, with particular reference to civil defense authorities recommendation that pupils be evacuated eastward.

Present were Joseph Sheaff, Orinda Elementary Superintendent; William Ellis, Lafayette Elementary Superintendent; Sheldon Rankin, Walnut Creek Elementary Superintendent; Neil M. Parsons, Acalanes High School District Superintendent and Arthur Dambacher, also of the Acalanes District.

Doyle to Speak To GOP Women

Assemblyman Donald Doyle will speak at the next meeting of the Orinda Republican Women's Club, Thursday, September 20 at 10 a.m., Fellowship Hall, Orinda Community Church.

Doyle will discuss the 19 propositions that will appear on the November 6 election ballot. The discussion will be followed by a question and answer period.

Sharing the program with Doyle will be Mel Nielsen of Lafayette and General Clarence Wallace of Danville, the two supervisorial condidates for the second distdict.

"This informative program should be of value to all Orinda voters and is open to all interested residents," stated Mrs. James Irwin, program chairman.

The meeting will be proceded by a Kaffee Klatch at 9:30 a.m., with Mrs. Madison Fowler as hostess.

Here's How to Keep Boats Safe for Nautical Pleasure

Boating is one of America's most pleasant sports. It is also one of the safest sports and one of the few outdoor activities for the entire family.

For the boating enthusiast whose purchasing power or leisure time is limited, the smaller boats under 26 feet long can furnish a world of pleasure. Certain equipment is required by law to be carried aboard these boats.

These smaller boats are divided into two classes: Class A, under 16 feet; and Class 1, 16 to 26 feet long.

Not only must certain equipment be on hand, it is pointed out by the United States Power Squadrons, this equipment also must be in good working order.

Equipment required for a Class A boat includes lights, fire extinguisher, and life preservers.

Lights are required on all classes of boats, and must be displayed from sunset to sunrise. Both Class A and Class 1 motorboats must have a combination red-and-green bow light which will show red on the port (left) side and green on the starboard side. In the stern is a higher light which shows white in all directions for at least two miles.

Class A and Class 1 sail boats use separate red and green bow lights and do not show the white stern light. However, a lantern or flashlight must be kept ready to be used, if necessary, upon the approach of other vessels. Open sail boats under 18 feet may carry only a white light to show in an emergency.

Boats of Class 1 must have an efficient whistle for use in giving passing and fog signals. A fog horn is not required on power boats and should not be used in place of a whistle.

A whistle is not required on Class A boats.

Class A and Class 1 boats are required to have at least one portable fire extiguisher of an approved type on board. These may be 1½ gal. foam, 4-lb. carbon dioxide, or 1 qt. carbon tetrachloride. Flame arresters and two cowl ventilators are required.

All motorboats are required to carry one life-saving device for every person on board, including children and babies. They must be an approved type, in good condition, and readily accessible. Ring buoys, life preservers, or box-type buoyant cushions may be used on boats under 40 feet.

Members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, at an owner's request, will make a courtesy inspection and issue a sticker to be placed on any boat which meets the requirements. This sticker will be accepted by the Coast Guard and exempts the owner from further examination. This year, for the first time, courtesy inspections will be made of boats under 16 feet in length.

Birthday Party Bang-up Affair

A happy birthday started off with a bang when Lorie Flenner of Acacia Drive toppled out of a tree head first and came up with a broken wrist and a sore head.

However, she managed to make the trip to the hospital and be back in time to be a very gracious nine-year-old hostess to her 14 guests who offered condolences., inspected the cast and the head patch and visited the scene of the accident en masse.

Sharing the birthday celebration were Pat Hawkins, Judy Hauer, JoAnn Davison, Larryann Long, Cynthia Sax, Lorna Olsen, Karen Sears, Debbie Sergeant, Diane Lechtoller, Lenore Hotten, Meredith Mitchell, Karen Bromley and Sherri Stone.

HARD RIDING

If your car seems to ride or drive irregularly, attention to one or more of the following service points may be needed, says the California State Automobile Association: Front wheel shock absorbers; caster, camber and toe-in; steering linkage; universal joints.

County Planners, Supervisors Are Praised at Meet

High praise was given recently to the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission by George Cox of Chicago, asssistant to the president of Santa Fe Railway, "for an outstanding job of land use planning" and for steps they have taken "that preclude the invasion of housing into the areas zoned for industry."

The statement by Cox, in which he referred to a West Pittsburg industrial zoning case issue as setting a national precedent, was made in an address he delivered at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley, at a local government and industrial development conference.

His subject was "Why a Railroad Will Buy Industrial Land in One Community and Not in Another."

Jack Towne, manager of the local branch of the American Trust Company and Chairman of the Contra Costa County Development Association's plant locating committee, R. B. Claxton of Kensington, a member of the committee, and Association Manager Iona M. Booth attended the meeting.

In referrring to Contra Costa County Cox said, "I want to salute the Contra Costa Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors. They have performed an outstanding job of land use planning and have taken steps that preclude the invasion of housing into areas zoned for industry.

"In January of this year the California District Court of Appeal upheld the board in its refusal to issue a permit allowing the creation of a residential subdivision on land zoned for heavy industry.

"I am told this is the first decision in the United States clearly upholding exclusive industrial zonning. This important decision gained national recognition in the March issue of Zoning Digest, a publication of the American Society of Planning Officials.

"It was reproduced and widely distributed by the National Industrial Zoning Committee."

Moraga Mothers To Meet Tuesday

Parents and teachers will have the opportunity to get acquainted at the Moraga Mothers' Club's first meeting of the school year at 8:30 Tuesday night at Moraga School, Mrs. Harold Parker, president, announced yesterday.

"This first meeting will be a parents' and teachers' night," Mrs. Parker said. "Guests will include Charles E. Toll, the new principal at Moraga School and the other teachers."

Mrs. Donna Cole was elected last summer as club president for the current school year, but she resigned because she is leaving the area. Mrs. Parker, who was vice-president, succeeded Mrs. Cole as president, and the club board appointed Mrs. Jerry Tarpley as vice-president.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

A total of 11,857 persons were injured and 464 killed in traffic accidents in the unincorporated areas of California during the first quarter of 1956, reports the National Automobile Club. Rotary Hears of GOP Convention

Highlights of the recent Republican National Convention in San Francisco were revealed to members of the Orinda Rotary Wednesday by convention delegate Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle.

Doyle spoke at the Rotary meeting at the Willow Inn. Joseph Longacre was program chairman.

This was his first convention, the assemblyman said, and he was singularly impressed with the arrangements and functions.

Particularly impressive, he claimed, was the ovation President Eisenhower received when he arrived at the Cow Palace, where the convention was held.

Doyle is chairman of the Education Committee of the state legislature. He told Rotary members of his travels through several states to study school systems.

The luncheon-meeting was presided over by President Ramsay Underwood.

New Standard plant foods help the West produce better meals at less cost

Broadcasting of Standard's new uniform chemically blended plant food by airplane can turn sparse hilly acres into rich pasture for livestock

RICHER SOIL means better crops, yet the West has never had enough soil-building fertilizer. To help meet farmers' needs, Standard opens a $16 million plant next month which will produce petroleum-derived plant food* in pellet form for Western soils and crops.

This uniform blend of essential plant growth elements is so effective that 400 pounds on an acre of grassland often enables it to feed 3 to 5 times more livestock. On other crops, too, it increases profits per acre. With this better use of Western land, your family will get tastier, more nourishing meals for every budget dollar.

Modern Dance Co-op Sets Class Registration Dates

The Orinda Modern Dance Co-operative, under the auspices of the Orinda Art Center, will register students next Thursday at Glorietta School and next Friday at Orinda School from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

These classes are open to all Orinda children, four through 12 years old.

The classes are as follows:

Orinda School — Tuesday: 3:30-4 — Pre-school; 4-4:45 — Beginning; 4:45-5:30 — Intermediate.

Glorietta School — Wednesday: 3:30-4:15 — Advanced; 4:15-5:15— Workshop; 5:15-6 — Advanced.

Glorietta School — Thursday: 3:30-4 — Pre-school; 4-4:45 — Beginning; 4:45-5:30 — Intermediate.

Again the Co-op wil have as their teacher Lynda Hickox, who has just returned from a summer dance tour of Europe. She speaks enthusiastically of the different dance groups with whom she studied. She was particularly interested in Marcel Marceau's work in Paris.

Modern dance, as Miss Hickox teaches, provides the child with another means of expression through rhythmic movement.

The concert last spring held by the Orinda Modern Dance Coop clearly defined Miss Hickox' influence with her students. Over 100 children danced through fanciful movements of grace and beauty, dressed in costumes of their own design and making.

Members of Art League Begin Early Christmas

Christmas thoughts start early for members of the Art League of the East Bay who this week held their first fall meeting — a combination of business and swimming — at the home of Mrs. A. H. Thompson of Glorietta Boulevard in Orinda.

Art League members have been selling Christmas cards since early in May, their primary money-raising project for the art classes for children which the Art League supports and conducts at the Junior Center of Arts in Oakland.

Mrs. Philip Merrill of Springhill Court in Lafayete, chairman of the sales committee, reported that many Art League members nave gone well over their quotas in selling these delightful cards, executed from designs done by the children themselves and this year complemented by a selection of note paper and five cards designed by talented Art League members.

Shining gold boxes were much in evidence, for Mrs. A. H. Thompson Jr. is in charge of packaging the cards. Many members, bringing new orders with them to the meeting, carried off the boxes to deliver to their friends and neighbors.

Local Art League members include Mrs. Edmund Barnett, Mrs. Johnson Clark, Mrs. Oliver Hamlin, Mrs. Warren Hudson, Mrs. Robert Church, Mrs. Walter J. Scammell Jr., Mrs. Philip Merrill, and Mrs. William Greuner Jr., of Lafayette; Mrs. Peter Howard of Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Tevis Thompson, Mrs. A. H. Thompson Jr., Mrs. Karl Schevill, Mrs. George Davis Simpson, Mrs. Timothy E. Colvin and Mrs. Oliver Gardner of Orinda.

Hostess for Tuesday's meeting was the junior Mrs. Thompson. Her co-hostess was Mrs. Robert E. Jones.

Luncheon Held For Chairmen of Social Dancing

Mrs. John Grobe had her annual luncheon recently at the Cape Cod House, Lafayette, for the various chairmen of the school social dancing groups which she and Mr. Grobe conduct.

The chairmen will send invitations within the next couple of weeks to sixth, seventh and eighth graders in Lafayette and to seventh and eighth graders in Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Danville, according to Mrs. Grobe.

Each group will meet once a month. The Vallecito sixth graders will gather at Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette; the other groups will meet in the multi-purpose rooms of schools. Sessions will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

In the larger groups Pat Seifker of Lafayette and Peter Morrisey of Sun Valley, juniors at Acalanes High School, assist in conducting the programs.

Present at the recent luncheon with Mrs. Grobe were the following chairmen:

From Lafayette — Mesdames H. E. Hollister, John Harrington, V. W. Peabody Jr., R. E. Vincent, Thomas Neilson, T. Robert Sandberg, James Beatty and Paul V. Allen.

From Walnut Creek—Mesdames Jack Havens and F. G. Fribley Jr.

From Pleasant Hill—Mesdames Walter Smith and David Fishel.

From Danville — Mesdames Leslie Ferguson and Robert S. Gould.

Fall Shoes Have Lively Colors

Elegance on an easy footing themes new fall shoes, in long, low, comfortable shapes, and warm, brigh colors. Toes are longer, tapered and closed.

Heels continue lower and lower, too, are throatlines that vary from round square or straight across to deep V's with scallops, cupid's bows and half moons. Sides and backs, though often lowered, are cleverly cut to give foot support.

Population of Schools Still Rising -- Wilson

Population on the move within Contra Costa County has brought a new kind of headache to public school administrators.

"Total county school enrollment figures would indicate that growth has slowed down almost to pre-World War II level," declared County Superintendent B. O. Wilson.

The annual growth rate before 1940 averaged 3 per cent, compared with which the rate between March 1955 and March 1956 was 4.4 per cent, he said. The rate of increase state-wide for the year was 7.4 per cent.

"THE FACT IS, however, that enrollment increase in suburban areas of Contra Costa County has not slowed down, and classroom space is still at a premium."

Sheldon Elementary District enrollment almost doubled in the year, increasing from 322 to 639, or 98 per cent. Although seven elementary districts lost 2,281 in enrollment between March 1955 and March 1956, the remainder of the districts gained more than 3,300 in elementary enrollment.

The total figure for all grades was 86,298, up from 80,466.

Contra Costa County, said Wilson, is now sixth largest in California in public school enrollment. It is surpassed by Los Angeles, Alameda, San Diego, Santa Clara and Orange Counties, in that order.

Until last year Contra Costa was fourth in enrollment.

Enrollment in local district, first in March last year, and second in March this year, with per cent increase, is as follows:

District, Alamo, 536 and 633, increase 18 per cent; Danville Union, 1090 and 1246, increase 14 per cent; Lafayette, 2963 and 3293, increase 11 per cent.

Mt. Diablo Unified (Elem.), 12,454 and 14,030, increase 13 per cent; Orinda Union, 1973 and 2230, increase 13 per cent; Walnut Creek, 3251 and 3651, increase 12 per cent; Acalanes Union High School, 1869 and 2170, increase 16 per cent.

Robert Nisbet, deputy city attorney of Oakland, addressed the Orinda Lions Wednesday night at the Casa Orinda. He talked on "The Proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District."

Contra Costa Second Only To LA in Special Districts

In 1955 Contra Costa was second only to Los Angeles among California counties in total number of special taxing districts, the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association reports.

The big southern county, with a population over 5 million, had 354 districts; Contra Costa had 106, Sacrameneto 104, San Diego 94, Orange 88, San Bernardino 82, Fresno 79, San Mateo 72, Santa Clara and Kern 69 each, and the remaining counties lesser numbers.

"Although it is a small county geographically and ranks about seventh in population, Contra Costa has unusually extensive unincorporated areas. In addition, it has been the policy of the Board of Supervisors to let these areas form local special districts for the municipal - type services desired by residents. These are the primary reasons for the numerous taxing units," the tax group stated.

The county's 23 fire districts, 19 lighting districts, and 10 sanitary districts were second highest in number in the state. Our 15 water districts were tied for first, and our five county service areas and four flood control districts were both first.

Other types of districts in Contra Costa County totaled: sewer maintenance, 6; recreation and hospital, 3 each; cemetery, community services, mosquito abatement sanitation, soil conservation (does not levy a tax), storm drain and public utility, 2 each; policy, sewer, storm drainage and waterworks, 1 each.

The taxpayers' association noted that these districts tend to pile up in highly-developed areas, with the result that some communities have as many as 10 or 12 agencies providing services independently of each other and adding to the total tax rate.

High School Gridders Open Play Tonight

Knights Will Meet Powerful San Ramon Team

The Las Lomas Knights take to the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field tonight to face the San Ramon Wolves in the curtain-raiser of the grid season.

The Knights were the surprise of the league last year, when they wound up in the runner-up spot in the final league standings.

The game tonight will be a good test for the Knights' 1956 grid machine, as the San Ramon club, under Coach Bob Bagley, wound up in the runner-up spot in its league last year and has a good number of veterans on hand, with promise of another good club.

TO ADD to the Knights' worry, Dame Rumor has it that a transfer has been most impressive with his backfield play and could raise cain with the Knights' defenses.

Coach George DeKlotz, mentor of the Las Lomas eleven, usually brings his clubs along slow and as a result will no doubt experiment a great deal tonight, particularly with new personnel.

One of his main worries to date, other than the loss of Duane Brown, who is out with a broken collarbone, has been a pesky ankle sprain suffered by Webb Johnson.

WEBB, an All-County center last season, was being converted to a fullback and was doing exceptionally well until the sprain laid him low. Unless the ankle responds shortly, he may be shifted back to his pivot spot.

The Knights' strength definitely lies in the guards and tackles, who represent one of the county's best quartets in the middle line unit.

The four who were standouts last year as regulars are all seniors, with Herb Foster (160) at right guard and Skip Andreggen (190) holding down left guard. At the tackle spots it's Tom LaPerle, 175, left tackle, and Wally Bush, 175.

LEFT END finds a newcomer up from the JV's in another senior, Roger Duncan, 175, while the right flank is manned by Britt Williams, a junior, at 167.

The backfield quartet finds last year's ace, Jim Symington, a senior at 155, at quarterback; Pete Ostrom, a junior at 155, at left half; Dick Bergdale, a senior weighing 150 at right half, and Ken Stevens, a senior, holding down the fort at fullback with his 170 pounds.

Webb Johnson could go at full or center if he is ready. If he isn't, chances are that Tom Tolan, a 200-pound center, will be the pivot man.

Red Cross Tells Of Needs for Gray Ladies

An appeal for volunteers to serve as Gray Ladies has been issued by the American Red Cross.

Crafts, personal service and recreation work are among the services especially needed, according to Mrs. James T. M. Chang, Gray Ladies chairman for the Mt. Diablo Chapter.

Local women interested in working at the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital are asked to call Mrs. R. R. Dreggors, MU 2-2572, for an appointment. Interviews will be held for Oak Knoll applicants on Monday.

Those wishing to serve at Parks Air Force Base should call Mrs. Leonard Seaclift, YE 4-9290, or report to the Mt. Diablo chapter office on Tuesday at 2 p.m. All interviews will be held at the chapter house, 1395 Ygnacio Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Classes of Gray Lady instruction will be given, and transportation provided for those accepted, Mrs. Chang said.

RAINY WEATHER DANGEROUS

A wet, rainy night is the most dangerous time there is for pedestrians. If you're walking, look out for vehicles and don't assume that the driver can see you. If you're driving, make sure your windshield wipers are working properly and keep a sharp lookout for persons afoot.

Award Night Brings Full House at WC Rec. Center

By MEL ALAMANO

The Coast League of the Walnut Creek Rec Leagues had their award night Tuesday night. A packed house attended, and Bob Maxey introduced city officials and sponsors.

Bob Durand of the Rec Commission thanked all the people who worked so hard. Morrie Thompson of the City Planning Commission told of future plans for the youth baseball program.

The men in blue who took the abuse of being umpires were given a gift by Gordon McNulty, league baseball commissioner. The fine fellows honored were Joe Freitas, Jack Groth and Rich Munn.

The gifts were from all the boys in the leagues.

Mr. Butler, the new Las Lomas High baseball coach was introduced.

Mrs. Ruth Wallis thanked everyone for their help and gave the Good Sportsmanship trophy to Miilu-MacPherson. Mr. MacPherson accepted the trophy.

Manager Bill Viers introduced the boys on the team who won only one game but who always had smiles, and kept trying. Gord McNulty introduced all the managers and teams in the small fry league.

Thompson Electric received the winning trophy. Jim Wilkinson, coach, introduced the winning team players.

Refreshments were served and the official end of the Coast League for 1956 was reached.

Next week, the report on the Eastern and Western National Leagues will be made.

Miramonte Grids Prep for Action Two Weeks Off

The Miramonte Matadors have two more weeks of drill before they go into competition against outside opponents September 27 and 28.

The J.V. club will play only seven games, giving up one practice tilt in order to get in an extra week of practice under their new coach Don Phillips.

Approximately 40 players are on tap for the Junior Varsity, with the same number of frosh going through daily drills under the watchful eye of Bob Callan.

THE FROSH will actually open the season when they play the Don Babes at Acalanes on Thursday, September 27. The J.V. aggregation tackles Las Lomas at Miramonte the next day, September 28. Both games will start at 3:30 p.m.

The Matadors' J.V. first club has good size, especially in view of the fact they are all sophomores, with two seasons of play remaining.

The top eleven has been in and out, with caliber of play varying from day to day. At times the team has shown signs of brilliance, while on other occasions its efforts have been only mediocre.

One of the biggest problems is to develop a passing attack. Matador flingers have generally been below par. Overtime work on the part of quarterback Floyd Blaney, however, has begun to show results and the picture has been brightened.

THE ALL SOPH team, which will compete in J.V. league play for the first time, lines up as follows:

L.E.—Tim Crawford, 160
L.T.—Tim Maloney, 190
L.G.—Mike Albo, 165
C.—Bruce Hilger, 155
R.G.—Mike Wilmer, 160
R.T.—Dave Puddy, 170
R.E.—Bob Hudson, 155
Q—Floyd Blaney, 140
L.H.—Gary Lucas, 140
R.H.—Randy Young, 130
F.—Bick Clifford, 155

Jewish School To Start Sunday

Registration of some 170 children from kindergarten to teenage level will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., Sunday, by the Sunday School of the newly enlarged Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, according to Chairman Lew Rapport.

Parents whose children will attend the Sunday School for the first time, are urged to phone Registrar Sy Sherman, YE 5-5843, as soon as possible.

Children who will be five years old by December are eligible for kindergarten. Other classes will deal with confirmation preparation.

Also sponsored by the Center is a Teen Club for those concluding the school's eighth grade.

League Foes To Eye Dons' At Martinez

The Acalanes Dons open the season at Martinez tonight when they play the Alhambra Bulldogs and stand their first test of fire.

The Dons, who have been impressive in spots during their practice sessions, are having the finger pointed at them by many as a potential toughie in the coming league race. League competitors will keep a careful eye peeled on the Martinez field.

THE DONS have a heavy and experienced forward wall, with a backfield that has its share of power and speed.

Their main problem has been building adequate reserve strength, which seems to be ample in certain positions, sparce in others.

Good passing strength seems to be a Don forte, with quarterbacks Rick Markstein and Lou Marello doing the tossing.

In Stuart Busby, the junior fullback who was a regular last year as a soph, the Dons have a runner with both power and speed, plus good blocking ability.

DAVE BOJARSKY, another junior, at 160 looks to be the top choice to start in the halfback flanker spot after having shown to advantage with his pass catching finesse and speed afoot.

Harold Ecklund, a senior at 170, gets the call at right half and is a power runner who should account for much yardage during the season.

Up front six veterans and a newcomer from last year's J.V. team will man the forward wall.

THE NEWCOMER is senior Bob Parker, 160, at left end, while at right flank it's Steve Jordan, who packs his 195 pounds swiftly.

John Cadwell (Sr., 190) and Frank Malynn (Sr., 206) hold down the tackle spots as they did last year. Jim Dinkel (Sr., 190) at left guard is one of the stronger linemen, due to his aggressive play.

Bill Broderick (Sr., 160) holds an edge over Ed Maloney (Sr., 180) at right guard. Art Batchelder (Jr., 175) looks to be adequate in the center spot.

The Dons' head coach Jean Ridley and assistant Bob Stevens have put their charges through long hours of drills on offense, refense and punt and kick-off formations.

Physically, the squad is in good shape, but the proof of its ability will come tonight.

Woman Repeats As Golf Champ

Mrs. Ritchie Smith, 8 Santa Lucia Road, Orinda, led the field as she repeated as champion in the Orinda Club golf championship for women.

As defending champion, Mrs. Smith shot 83, her eight stroke handicap giving her low net honors of 75.

Mrs. Merle Noble came in with an 80 to capture low gross laurels.

Bruce Copeland Heads Crusade Speaker Bureau

Appointment of Bruce Copeland as chairman of the important speakers' bureau for the Diablo Valley area of the United Crusade today marked start of a drive to bring the full Crusade story to each of the more than 170 separate service clubs and other organizations in this area.

Notification to this effect has been sent to each of these clubs and organizations and already replies are coming in from them asking to have a date set aside for a speaker to address one of their meetings.

"In fact," said Copeland, "so great is the enterest being shown that it will be a difficult matter to schedule all the talks requested, so those clubs that have not already asked for a date to be set should do so as soon as possible.

"THE CLUB MEMBERS are realizing that this is their best opportunity to become acquainted with the aims of the Crusade and many advantages of having 'one big give' rather than a score of individual drives.

"This saves the duplication of time and effort in screening out the numerous applicants for donations and also assures that the maximum amounts actually will go to the Crusade causes, and not to promoters and overhead."

A powerful speaker and staunch advocate of the Crusade idea, Copeland and his bureau plan to address meetings of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Moose, Elks, Eagles, Masons, K. of C., PTA and other groups.

COPELAND IS WELL qualified to speak on the need of support of youth activities as he and his wife Carol have four children, Susan, 8, Tom, 6, Jane, 4, and Margaret, 2. They make their home in Lafayette and he has his estates planning, tax analysis and insurance offices in Walnut Creek.

Copeland has the distinction of being one of the youngest of church officials. Only 30, he was recently elected Moderator of the Congregational Churches of Northern California.

With Copeland on his speakers bureau are Bob Cahill and Bernard Young of Concord; George Conner, Danville; Al Ingalls, Lafayette; Frank Curtis, Orinda; Douglas Cowan, William Weil, George Lineer and James Maguire, Pleasant Hill and Charles Daniels, Robert Graves, William Heck, Roger Jernigan, Larry Milnes and John Valentine of Walnut Creek.

"Give them a hand — the one in your pocket," is the slogan of this year's United Crusade.

Parkmead School, Walnut Creek—Children's literature, September 26.

With one exception the classes begin at 7 p.m. One of two sections of the audio-visual course will be conducted in the afternoon, beginning at 4.

Accounts of divine power and healing—including Joshua's victory at Jericho and Christ Jesus' walking on the sea—will be among passages read from the Holy Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read (139:4):

"From beginning to end, the Scriptures are full of accounts of the triumph of Spirit, Mind, over matter. Moses proved the power of Mind by what men called miracles; so did Joshua, Elijah, and

Curtain Callers Want Mementos

Do you remember the day when the flapper was the mode and the Charleston was the rage? Did your best beau come calling in a raccoon coat?

If so, then you're much older than the Orinda teen-age theater group, the Curtain Callers.

But they are planning to bring this gay age back to you in early October. "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," to be staged at the Orinda School, will be set in the "roaring twenties."

The call is out for old mementos of this era. Have you a wind-up phonograph, a raccoon coat or some real hot Charleston records? Is your attic cluttered with things, anything typical of this period?

The Curtain Callers would welcome them. Contact Mrs. Stuart Henderson, 32 Loma Vista, Orinda, CL 4-3592.

Grid Fans Divide Loyalty As Preps and Pros Play

By ERWIN MATTSON

Football fans, who have had only the 49ers to follow up to now, will have the preps to watch starting tonight, as teams open up with their first practice games.

College football in the Bay Area also starts next weekend.

THE 49ERS, incidentally, will soon be leaving the St. Mary's College campus, their practice area, when official league play gets under way. They have plans to use the Peninsula area for workouts once the play for keeps begins.

It is interesting to note that many are beginning to temper their judgment of the 49ers after placing them high on the list among National Football League teams.

HEAD COACH Frankie Albert has always been a popular figure and his well wishers are many. Popular with the fans and the press, he has received many a pat on the back.

What fans tend to ignore is that other clubs have some pretty fair players of their own and a good many loyal fans as well.

Pro football is a pretty well-balanced deal and with the limited number of clubs in action all have a chance of beating any other on any given day.

Don't ever forget that Albert is having problems as a coach too. It's his first year at the helm. Playing and coaching are two different things. The problems are different and the experiences certainly are.

WITH ALL CREDIT to Albert, he has done a fine job, but one thing certain is he isn't going to win them all—last Saturday's game proved that.

Local fans got a good look at the 49ers if they happened to be at Acalanes Memorial Field Thursday night of last week. The club underwent a workout under the lights of the field as a test for their night game at Portland.

Chances are the northern lights were a bit too bright as the 49ers suffered their first defeat.

I happened to have had an opportunity to inspect the new gym being constructed at Pleasant Hill High this week, and while it is several months from completion, one can see that it will be a real addition. Well constructed and of adequate size, it will no doubt house the casaba sport.

THE PREPS open their season today when the various clubs take to the turf.

I am going out on a limb with a few predictions on today's games.

Las Lomas and the San Ramon eleven meet under the Acalanes lights. Two good elevens, but on edge to the Knights in the line could result in a 20-13 Las Lomas win.

Pleasant Hill tackles Livermore.

THE RAMS aren't quite ready but it will be close. Prediction . . . Livermore 13, Pleasant Hill 6.

The Dons face Alhambra High of Martinez. The local eleven has wrinkles to smooth out, both offensively and defensively, but rate a win over the Bulldogs who have lost two backfield aces.

Take the Dons, 20-0.

Livermore is First Test of Light Ram 11

The Pleasant Hill Rams make their 1956 grid debut tonight when they take on the Livermore Cowboys under the lights of the Mt. Diablo High field. Kick-off is slated for 8 p.m.

Coach Hal Briggs and his assistants have put in long hours of preparation and they feel confident that this year's eleven will prove to be the best in Ram history.

THE SQUAD is a bit on the light side as varsity elevens go, but appears to be well ahead of last year's club in all-around play.

Last year the offense was built around All-County fullback Jim McMillin, who was lost via graduation. In contrast, this year's team has far better offensive balance, and in Fred Rupprecht, who stands 6'1" and tips the scales at 187, the Rams could well have a strong contender for All-County honors at tackle.

Scrimmages and drills have been hard and long in preparation for tonight's opener. Considerable attention has been given the defensive unit.

PASS DEFENSE has been sressed in particular, as scout reports indicate that the Cowboys like to take to the air.

Both clubs have seven returning lettermen and start even in the experience department.

The tentative starting lineup, as released by Briggs, is as follows for the Rams:

L.E.—Charles Scott, Sr., 148
L.T.—Warren Milham, Jr., 170
L.G.—John Turner, Sr., 185
C.—Chuck Exner, Sr, 160
R.G.—Craig McKay, Sr., 175
R.T.—Fred Rupprecht, Jr., 187
R.E.—Dick Garren, Sr., 165
Q.—Al Locatell, Sr., 150
L.H—Bob March, Sr., 150
R.H.—Mike Cereda, Sr.. 150
F.—Dan Ipson, Jr., 173

To See Action Next Weekend

Local prep football fans will have an opportunity of seeing all three local varsity clubs in action next week. In fact, one can see them all if one has the time.

Next Friday the Pleasant Hill Rams play St. Mary's High in a 3:30 game at St. Mary's field.

Next Friday night the Acalanes Dons play host to Oakland High, with an 8 o'clock kickoff.

Saturday, September 22, finds the Knights of Las Lomas packing their gear and traveling to San Anselmo in Marin County for a 2:30 p.m. game with Drake High School.

2-County Transit? Need More Plans

What is going to happen to transit in Central Contra Costa County?

There are, of course, many possibilities, but the one that looms largest now is the formation of the proposed two-county rapid transit district covering Alameda County and a good portion of Contra Costa County.

The Sun was the first newspaper or organization to question the advisability of including Central Contra Costa in this district, and since that time the County Board of Supervisors and the Contra Costa County Commuters Association have gone on record as rejecting the proposal.

We still question the advisability of this district, but we don't know the answer to the problems that are causing its formation.

The formation of this district is based primarily on the problems caused by Key System, and they relate almost entirely to Alameda County and the Richmond areas.

The basis of the district formation remains that it will empower people of the areas affected to use certain tools in case Key System has another strike and paralyzes East Bay and trans-bay mass transit.

Of course, we, in this area, are not interested in helping the East Bay cities purchase Key System — or a substitute for Key System. We have problems of our own.

On the other hand, it has been pointed out that if Greyhound sets up an independent company to handle commute service, as they are well on their way to doing, then this area will face some extremely grave problems during the next few years.

It is a known fact that Greyhound wants to get out of the commute business. The company itself has termed it consistently as a "losing proposition." If a separate company were set up out here, they could raise their rates so high that one of two things might happen. No one would use the system, or eventually they could disband the service completely, thus effectively getting out of the commute business.

This would leave Central Contra Costa with no form of transit at all.

Proponents of the two-county district say, "OK, we can furnish you with transportation." We wonder. It is possible that setting up a commute or inter-city service for this area would be so expensive that the district simply could not afford to provide good service in Central Contra Costa County.

It is also possible that the vast number of people in the East Bay cities would refuse to bond themselves to the extent necessary to provide the service that this area needs.

On the other hand, it is equally possible that if the district were formed as proposed, this area could defeat a bond issue which requires a two-thirds majority, and consequently keep the East Bay from achieving the service it needs.

This could result in a sort of stalemate with neither area getting anything.

Frankly, we don't know the answers. It is possible that the proposed district, or some modification of it, might provide them. There may be other solutions.

It is time, however, for the proponents to come up with a little more concrete planning so that we can honestly decide the merits of the matter.

Nobody is questioning the sincerity or enthusiasm of the proponents of the district. They have worked hard for a system in which they believe.

We do reserve the right to be convinced, however, and it will take concrete planning and concrete measures to provide the material for a decision.

What They Say

Can We Keep Suburbanism

For several years now local newspapers (including The Sun) have devoted a great deal of space and many banner headlines to the frequently occurring controversies over zoning, incoming industry and large businesses, multiple housing, etc.

These articles have given a pretty good indication that there is a growing movement in the local communities to retain a semi-rural or suburban atmosphere in this area.

MANY LOCAL residents have protested against the "citifying" of this community because, they claim, they had moved out here to get away from the noise and bustle of cities.

Everyone knows that this area is growing — in fact, it is one of the most rapidly expanding sections of the state.

In which way should this growth be directed?

Venturing to find out how local residents felt about this problem, your Roving Reporter asked, "How do you feel about the efforts to maintain an informal semi-rural atmosphere in our communities?"

THIS IS WHAT he learned:

Mrs. William E. Stenhammer, 60 Camino Encinas, Orinda, expressed a very predominant opinion when she said she backed the efforts because the suburban atmosphere was "what most of us moved out here for."

She added that such things as the Veteran's Administration Hospital, for example, "would be better off somewhere else."

It's nice to have a suburban community, opined Mrs. Lowell S. Dygert, 3658 Mosswood Drive, Lafayette, but the advent of industries seems inevitable.

Mrs. LaVern Galli of 2880 Putnam Boulevard, Walnut Creek, agreed that the industrial and residential should be kept apart, in their own zones, and added, "I also feel that the shopping centers should be scattered as best suits the convenience of the people of the area."

"Keep it residential," was the emphatic reply also of Roy Frederickson of Alamo. Frederickson added that current problems concern new housing developments in Alamo.

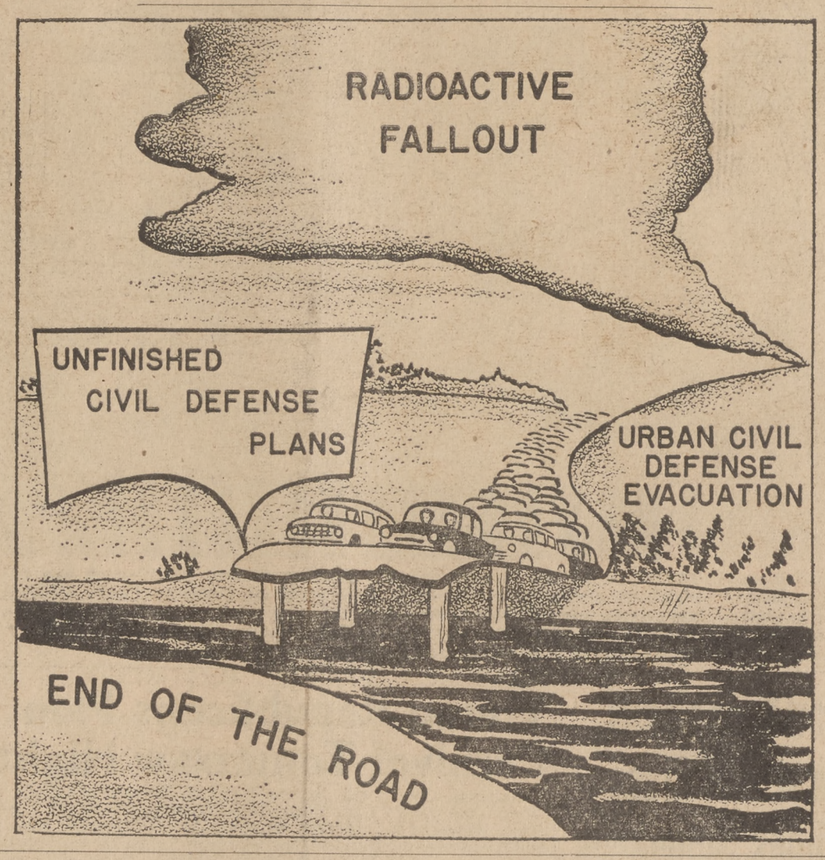
"I think that industry is a good idea for any community, as long as it is confined to certain tracts, and doesn't interfere with the residential life elsewhere," commented Mrs. Richard Hall of 985 Santa Cruz Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"We came to Pleasant Hill to attain this rural atmosphere, and the gain in taxes, I think, is somewhat secondary if it threatens that country way of living," declared Joseph Cartan of 270 Keates Circle.

AN EFFECTIVE way of doing this, she felt, would be to move industries and large business concerns to other parts of the county.

"There's such a large area in Contra Costa that I don't think it's necessary to move industries here," she said.

The family of Mrs. William J. Eames, 3649 Bickerstaff Street, Lafayette, was another one which had moved here for a suburban atmosphere.



Retarded Kids' School Planning Open House

Open house will be held at Lynn School for retarded children in Danville Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The school, sponsored by the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County, is starting its second year in this location, previously occupying temporary quarters in Walnut Creek.

There will be a special flag-raising ceremony at 2:30 p.m. conducted by a color guard of Walnut Creek American Legion Post 115 and honor guard of the 6th Army Corps, The Presidio.

THE FLAG, which will fly in front of the school, was presented by Mr. and Mrs. William O'Shia of San Ramon, in memory of their son, PFC James R. Griffen, killed in action in Luzon in 1945.

"The Council for the Retarded is a non-profit corporation consisting of parents of the children and interested citizens who appreciate the great need for working to improve the welfare of the mentally retarded," said Jack Clopton, president. "The school is supported solely by parents, friends of the Council and charitable organizations and receives no financial aid from state or government."

Under the able guidance of an experienced teacher, Miss Winifred Johnston, assisted by mother helpers, the children are helped to coordinate muscles of their arms and legs, encouraged to play, paint, listen to music and operate wheel toys.

THEY ARE TAUGHT to dress themselves through the help of self-teaching boards with shoes to lace; jackets to button, zipper and snap: Speech therapy is employed and the children are taught to participate in group work and games.

All these different phases of the Lynn School will be shown and explained to visitors at the open house. All interested citizens are invited to attend and see the positive strides that have been made in three short years by this dedicated group of parents of mentally retarded children.

At the present time, there are 10 children continuing their training at the school this term and 11 who are applying for acceptance. The age limit is three to eight years and with the proper guidance in social adjustment, theese children may be able to enter special classes at public school at the age of eight.

CHILDREN FROM Walnut Creek, Concord, Lafayette, Danville, Hayward and Pittsburg are in attendance. A committee has been established to work out the transportation problem of the pre-schoolers to and from Lynn School, under chairmanship of Mrs. Atilio Squeri.

The only necessary requirement for being acecpted in the preschool is that the teacher and the school committee feel convinced the child can benefit from the type of program offered. The Council's sole purpose is to help mentally retarded children; therefore, no child will be turned away that might be helped.

Monthly tuition is purposely kept at a minimum so that no child will be kept at home due to lack of funds.

PERSONS INTERESTED in enrolling a child in the preschool, in the sheltered workshop, or in becoming a member of the organization, can contact Mrs. Albert Blytt, 175 Agnes Way, Pleasant Hill.

Parents of the pre-school children will serve as hosts and hostessses at the open house. Greeting the guests as they enter the building will be Jack Clopton, president of Council for the Retarded; Miss Winifred Johnston, teacher; and Mrs. George Stenmark, mother chairman.

Stationed at the guest register and information booth will be Mrs. Jack Clopton, Mrs. David Armstrong and Mrs. Atilio Squeri. Other parents will conduct tours of the do-and-learn room, the art room, housekeeping area, speech therapy section and the miniature store.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

Contra Costa's gambling reputation

Of the major counties in California, Contra Costa in the past has had the reputation as being the worst for gambling and vice.

By the very action taken by our County Board of Supervisors last week, it looks like these five officials would like to see this "reputation" resumed. Once again they refused to take action against gambling in the county. But let's start at the beginning and review the problem.

For some years, county grand juries have demanded action by county officials against gambling. Criticism was aimed primarily at former Sheriff Jim Long and District Attorney Francis Collins, who is still in office. Other recommendations, however, have been aimed at the Supervisors, who were in office during the rampant gambling days and ever since.

The Kefauver Senate Crime Committee said, "Contra Costa County (gambling) operations appear to have been wide open. It is hard to understand why the local authorities have done nothing."

The Committee termed Contra Costa County gambling as the "biggest, boldest, most wide-open operation of its kind in Northern California."

Exhibits B, C, D and E

The State Crime Commission report of late 19550 devoted more space to Contra Costa than to any other county in the state. Since then, gambling in varying forms could be found in the county.

Three years ago Bill Pechart and Dave Kessel, former gambling czars of the county, applied for a gambling license in Nevada. They didn't mince words about Contra Costa County, admitting under oath they had operated illegal gambling establishments here for 17 or 18 years. Their application was rejected.

Incidentally, Pechart has property and is still in "business" in the county. I have been told that he owns a substantial number of pin ball machines.

A little more than two years ago Sun staff members appeared before the county grand jury. The jury investigated pin ball gambling and forced Sheriff Long and D.A. Collins to act. The jury demanded that the Board of Supervisor pass an ordinance prohibiting pin ball machines.

The same old story

A hearing was held. The heat was on. The supervisors went through the motions of appointing a committee "to study" the problem — and, of course, nothing happened. The supervisors and the committee promptly forgot the whole matter.

These were the same five supervisors who are on the board today — Cummings, Goyak, Taylor, Frederickson and Buchanan.

These were the same supervisors who refused to take any action to regulate draw poker parlors in the unincorporated sections of the county, although requested to do so by residents and organizations.

Meanwhile, things began to happen. Every incorporated city in the county, except perhaps two, have passed ordinances outlawing pin ball machines and/or regulating or banning draw poker parlors.

A major change in the gambling picture occured about a year and one half ago when Harry Brown took office as the newly-elected sheriff. The heat went on and, as far as I know, has stayed on. Multiple-play pin ball machines were raided and picked up throughout the county. Even Brown's detractors would be forced to admit that law enforcement has improved tremendously.

Now — current events

A few weeks ago Sheriff Brown asked the Supervisors for an ordinance to license cardrooms, controlling their hours of operation, etc. in the unincorporated sections. The sheriff pointed out that card players were moving into Contra Costa after 2 p.m. from other counties, which close down earlier.

Then, Board Chairman Cummings ordered the district attorney to prepare such an ordinance. But last week the Supervisors refused to pass the ordinance. The action went into the books as "continued indefinitely."

The sheriff had also asked for an ordinance outlawing all pin ball games as the "only effective police measure." You see, pin ball operators are very smart people. They can make a "legal" pin ball machine illegal with the greatest ease. Policing pin ball gambling takes time and manpower. Pin ball machines, incidentally, cause juvenile problems. It's a million dollar business in this county.

Back on the table

Several weeks ago the supervisors reluctantly promised "further consideration" of the pin ball ordinance. But last week the supervisors didn't waste any time. They voted to "table it."

Incidentally, Ray Taylor, supervisor from Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill, etc., seconded both motions to kill any action.

So, once again our supervisors have made it clear where they stand.

And what now?

Well, I believe our sheriff and other law enforcement officials should continue to raid pin ball gambling. And it should be the duty of our new county grand jury to investigate why our supervisors refuse to enact these two, much-needed ordinances.

Valley Art Center 'Eighth Annual' Attracts Big Crowds

VALLEY ART CENTER'S Eighth Annual Art Show last weekend attracted art-lovers from throughout this area. A preview and garden party, for members exhibitors, was held last Friday night. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.—Sun photos by Mattson

Art Show Is Successful--Artistically, Financially

The Valley Art Center's outdoor show area was turned into a beautiful setting by Michael Czaja, president of the Center and professor of architecture of the University of California, for the Eighth Annual Art Show of last weekend.

Last Friday evening many of the Diablo Area art enthusiasts gathered for a garden party and preview.

There was a background of white on which the paintings were hung. This arrangements, together with the ceramic display from the Contemporary Arts in Berkeley and the sculpture made the exhibit one that would long be remembered by those attending the art.

A line of teen-age hostesses dressed in their fine evening dresses greeted the guests.

Czaja said that much of the credit for the excellent show was due to the untiring efforts of his committee, Evadne Wenker of Alamo, Mary Kwiat of Walnut Creek and Marian Love of Lafayette.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN of the show was Mrs. Pat St. John Moran of Walnut Creek.

Professor Karl Kasten of the University, one of the jurors, said the show contained pointings of high quality and that the local artists have been advancing rapidly in the field of painting.

The other jurors were Paul Mills, director of the Oakland Art Museum, and Eugen Neuhaus, professor emeritus of the University of California.

Following the preview, the show was held on Saturday and Sunday.

AWARD WINNERS, announced by Czaja, were as follows:

For paintings, the purchase prize of $100 was awarded to Lenore E. Vogt of Lafayette. Mary Rasmussen of Danville received the second award of $50. Lyle P. Lund of Lafayette, Pat St. John Moran and Edith Dinkin of Walnut Creek received $5 merchandise awards.

Honorable mentions were given Betty Pleshe of Concord and Doris Whipple and Constance Helm of Danville.

IN THE SCULPTURE exhibit, first prize of $50 was awarded to Jonathan Batchelor for "Portrait of Louis Siegrist."

A "Mosaic" by Leon Dinkin won an honorable mention.

The Photoraphy seventh annual was a co-feature of the art show. This display is hanging at the Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, and will be there during the month of September.

Gallery hours are 11 a.m. through 3 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays.

The awards for the photography exhibit were given to Challis Gore, Orinda, first award of $15; Barney Hedberg, Lafayette, second award, $10. Boardman Moore, Barney Hedberg, N. A. Wahlberg Jr. and James Vale received honorable mentions.

THE GARDEN FURNITURE used for the Eighth Annual Art Show was loaned the Center by Mayor and Mrs. Edward Counter of Walnut Creek. Garden arrangements were by Le Jardin Nursery and Orchard Nursery, and the electricity arrangement was done by James Hull.

The show was a financial success, with the proceeds going toward a permanent art center.

Designed drawings for the new Center will be completed next month by Czaja and will be on display at the present Center.

AMONG THE GUESTS at Friday evening's party were:

The Edmund Barnetts, Mel Nielsens, Leon Dinkins', John Ellis', Rawlings Simons, Floyd Helms, Michael Czajas, Boyd Handelins, Ralph Lindbergs, Les Scharmers, John Enrights, Joseph Crouches, Stanley Kwiats, Robert Loves, Peter Picards, Jonathan Bachelors, Lyle Lunds, S. SPARK PLUG LIFE

The modern, high-compression engines on most of today's automobiles supply plenty of power but they also require more maintenance than their weaker cousins of a few years back. One thing that is apt to give out more rapidly is spark plugs. If your car engine misses or seems to lack power, on of the first things to have checked is the spark plugs.

'Home Week' Proclaimed; California Leads Nation

Governor Goodwin J. Knight has proclaimed September 15-23 as California Home Week, it was announced today by Frederick C. Kracke, executive vice president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County.

The Governor in his official statement recently issued gave recognition to the outstanding contribution of California's home builders to the nation's economy and home production, Kracke stated. The Governor's official statement reads in part as follows:

"California continues to glory in its golden age of progress and growth. Thousands of new families are moving into our state each month, bringing with them unlimited talent, industry and ambition.

"Providing homes and housing for these people has offered one of the most dynamic challenges ever faced by American free enterprise.

"The manner in which the home building industry of California has responded is eloquent testimony to the efficacy of the economic precepts which have made our nation strong and great.

"During the last complete calendar year, California led the nation in home production with 212,493 new units begun. New York, substantially in second place, recorded 118,611 fewer new units than California started for the same period.

"In these figures may be found an augury of our state attaining first rank nationally in population within a few years."

Fund Campaign Plans Launched

Duncan Knudsen, chairman of the Contra Costa County United Fund Committee, has been authorized to select a nominating committee for the board of directors in preparation for the coming United Bay Area Crusade campaign.

The campaign, which gets under way October 1, has a goal of $424,955.

The action was taken at the recent meeting of the group when the suggested by-laws were adopted and Knudsen was instructed to go ahead with the filing of articles of incorporation for the organization.

Textbooks Are Topic For Board

School textbooks, their quality and quantity, will be talked over Wednesday, when Assemblyman Don Doyle is scheduled to attend a meeting of the County Board of Education in the Martinez city hall.

Open to the public, the meeting will also include a discussion on the county program for the education of mentally retarded children.

The textbook discussion, to be launched by Evelyn Jegi, assistant superintendent for curriculum, will begin at 1:30 p.m., and the curriculum discussion at 4 p.m.

The later session was called at the request of J. F. Clopton and other parents of the Walnut Creek and Danville areas, and also parents of the west county.

In a meeting October 3, the County Board will hear department budget proposals.

County Planning 12 Buildings at $2,952,000

The Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association announced this week that Contra Costa County government pans to construct twelve new buildings in the near future.

The construction will involve three general governmen buildings, three health, welfare, and hospital facilities, three buildings in the garages, warehouses, shops and yards classification, one structure in the recreation, libraries and memorial halls, one building at the airport, and one building in the agricultural-miscellaneous class.

County officials estimate that this construction will cost $2,952,000 which will be raised by the property tax, lease-purchase financing and Federal-State aid.

Contra Costa ranks third of the Bay Area Counties in the number of structures it will build, being surpassed only by Alameda with 18 and Solano with 13. Other Bay counties rank as follows; San Joaquin 10, Santa Clara 9, Sonoma 8, Napa 6, San Mateo 4, and Marin 1.

University Women Seek New Members

The Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women has extended an invitation to local women holding from institutions approved by the AAUW Committee on Standards and Recognition.

AAUW is a national organization with state divisions and local branches, and it enjoys international fellowship with college women around the world, say leaders.

The 1956-57 program being offered by the Walnut Creek Branch will include study groups on education, international relations, the arts, social studies, status of women and legislation in addition to monthly meetings for all members and several social events.

Plans are being made for several "coffee hours" to be held for prospective members in the near future to acquaint them with the branch and its activities.

Women interested in membership are invited to contact either Mrs. John Strong, membership chairman, YE 4-7178, or any of the following members of her committee as soon as possible so that they may be included in the "coffee hours" and receive the advantages of the full year's activities.

Therapy Center To Benefit From 'Parade' Booth

Members of the Auxiliary Units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will turn concessionnaires tomorrow through 23 at the Parade of Homes on Donald Drive in Moraga.

Unit members will staff a refreshments stand with hot dogs, home made cupcakes, ice cream, soft drinks and coffee on the menu.

THE CONTRACTORS Association, sponsors of the Parade, voted to offer the refreshment stand business to Therapy Center auxiliaries with all proceeds going to the Center for its rehabilitation work.

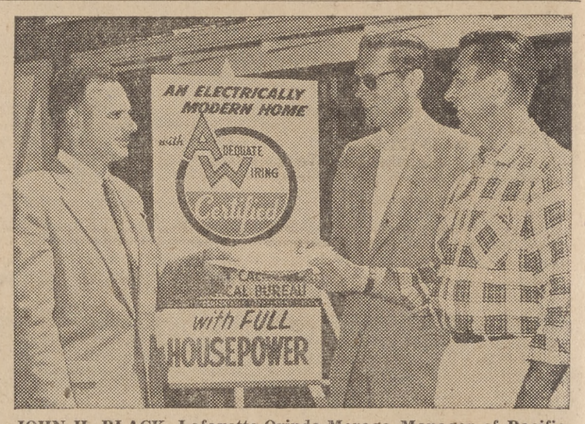
In addition to the refreshment stand, the auxilaries will staff a children's play area where parents can leave their children while inspecting the homes.

The play area will offer a variety of play equipment including swings, slides, tree climbs, sand boxes and a small merry go-round. All equipment will be provided by the Contractors Association.

THE FLICKER UNIT of the Therapy Center is in charge of the event. Mrs. Leo J. Kieny, president of the Unit, is chairman, with Mrs. Howard E. Burk, vice-president, serving as co-chairman.

The Flickers' committee includes the Mesdames R. W. Olsen, John J. Bell, Norman Fletcher, R. W. Curtis, Richard Lieber, Earle Romak, J. Raymond Beeson and E. William Palmer, all of Walnut Creek; and Mesdames James R. Blackman and H. G. Brandenburg of Concord.

OTHER UNITS participating will be the Orioles, Mrs. John Dorr, president; Tanagers, Mrs. Stanley Majka, president; Mary Doyle, Mrs. Hugh Gordon, president; Larks. Mrs. Ralph Ligon, president; Robins, Mrs. Aldo Vasconi, president; Flamingos, Mrs. Jack B. Cullen, president; Starlings, Mrs. Melvin Peccianti, president; and Hummingbirds, Mrs. T. D. Bond, president.



JOHN H. BLACK, Lafayette-Orinda-Moraga Manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, presents Certificates of Adequate Wiring to Ernest D. Holly and Jack Eyman in front of one of the eight homes in the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes. Holly is the executive secretary of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, Inc., and Eyman is chairman of the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes. The showing of model homes opens tomorrow and will continue through September 23. Purchasers of model homes with full housepower certificates, Black said, will be assured that their electrical wiring is sufficient for today's needs and that provision has been made for the addition of more electrical "servants" in the future.

Each Woman is Queen at Rheem 'Parade of Homes'

The custom of crowning a queen for every festival, while not an officially recognized procedure for National Home Week, is being done on a grand scale in the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes, which starts tomorrow.

At the big celebration in Rheem area, Moraga, every feminine visitor will be queen since the homes on display are designed to her appeal especially to her.

THE PRESENTATION offers a one-stop display of the latest and best in housing. Here, on adjoining lots, are typical luxury homes.

All are decorated, furnished and landscaped and each is built by a different construction firm as a sample of the homes being erected by that firm in other Contra Costa locations.

OTHER HOMES OPEN FOR YOUR INSPECTION

During National Home Week, builders and real estate firms invite you to inspect the many attractive homes open for inspection throughout the area. These are in addition to those at the Parade of Homes.

Because of the wide variety of homes concentrated in a single location, interested families can see the latest ideas in housing in just one trip and eliminate days of house hunting.

THE PARADE, which forms a virtual "supermarket" of housing, offers an entire "country" block of homes for inspection and comparison of the latest features in relaxed, luxury living.

"Country" block fairly describes the size of the display. Lots for the homes vary from one-third to one-half acre, enhancing the spacious appearance of each.

The space also lends additional emphasis to the outdoor living facilities which are a part of each luxury residence.

Some of the Parade's participating builders have utilized the big lots to incorporate full-size swimming pools in their living plans. Another has taken a spreading oak at the end of a sloping backyard and made it a center of attraction by building a level patio-deck around it.

THE RHEEM VALLEY Parade, under sponsorship of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, is the only one of its kind in the entire San Francisco Bay Area.

It is located in Rheem Valley on Moraga Road, one-half mile south of the new shopping center.

Admission, of course, is free and there is also plenty of free parking adjacent to the Parade site.

ONE OF THE Parade's half-acre lots has been set aside for the youngsters as a recreation area. It is divided into two sections, one of which has special equipment and toys for the very young; the other half is equipped particularly to interest grade school children.

Refreshments are also available at the recreation yard, with all proceeds derived from the concession going to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

The Parade will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. through Sunday, September 23.

THIS IS THE HOME built by the Marchant Development Company for the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes, which will be held from tomorrow through September 23. Typifying the homes being built by Marchant in Silver Springs and Happy Valley Dell of the Lafayette area, it offers central hall plan, generous use of wood paneling, semi-perimeter heating, kitchen with built-in electric range, oven, dishwasher and food waste disposer, family room with brick barbecue and sliding glass doors to the patio.

BPW to Elect New Officers

The Walnut Creek Professional and Business Women's Club will hold its annual closed business meeting, Tuesday, at Stan's Brick House at 6 p.m. No program is scheduled.

'Area Advantages Result In More Owners of Homes'

By HAROLD E. PARKER
President, General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County

Central Contra Costa County's continued development has resulted from the climatic advantages obtainable in this "Valley of the Sun" so near to the metropolitan San Francisco area.

Recent freeway construction has been necessitated by the influx of people seeking the many advantages of outdoor living and home ownership.

THE GENERAL CONTRACTOR'S Association of Contra Costa County has grown with the steady development of the county and recently celebrated its 15th anniversary.

The Contra Costa County General Contractors Association moved its offices from the Richmond area in 1949 to the Walnut Creek area and in 1955 opened its new home of its own at 3462 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

THE CONTRIBUTION of the home builder, the real estate broker and the salesman to the economy of Central Contra Costa County is apparent to anyone who has visited the various new home developments throughout Central Contra Costa County.

The Parade of Homes which will be open during National Home Week in Moraga will afford an opportunity to Bay Area residents to visit eight homes constructed by eight different contractors and learn of new materials, new built-ins and better utilization of storage areas, both within the home and in the garage.

Farm Bureau States Drive

Fifty-three new members were signed up by the Contra Costa County Farm Bureau, during its one-day drive which started with breakfast at the Concord Farm Bureau Clubhouse recently.

Ken Synder, director field service, California Farm Bureau Federation, was guest speaker at the opening breakfast.

Teams of workers, divided into twos, then spent the day recruiting new members, reporting back to the clubhouse for supper. Winning team consisted of Joe Silva of Diablo and Paul Wing of Danville, with a total of 12 new members.

Serving supper to the group was Mrs. Harry Hobbs, assisted by Mrs. George Fox, Mrs. Don Littorno and Joan Hobbs.

Postal Group Meets at Rock Home in PH

The Golden Gate Auxiliary to the National Postal Transport Association held a social and fund-raising meeting on Labor Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rock in Pleasant Hill.

The fund-raising was to eliminate any deficit financing which might occur when the Auxiliary becomes host to the national convention of the Association during the third week in October at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, said leaders.

18 families of Postal Transportation employees from the Contra Costa area.

Most of the surplus cash evaporated when one of the guests was nudged into the swimming pool and had his Mickey Mouse wrist watch immersed in H2O. At this rate the Muir Woods tour planned for the visitors has now just enough in the kitty to get half way across the Golden Gate Bridge at which point further funds will have to be arranged. Let's get that bus across the bridge and into the Woods.

The hostesses for this affair were Mesdames Mildred Wise and Evelyn Shallenberger of Walnut Creek, Betty Jane Rea and Inez Amonson of Lafayette, Jewell Forsythe of Concord and Wanda Rock of Pleasant Hill.

Danville Annexed By CCCSD Board

Spurred by a petition presented by the Danville Chamber of Commerce, the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District last week voted to allow that area to annex to the district.

The petition, presented at a sanitary district Board of Directors meeting, contained signatures representing more than 75 per cent of the assessed valuation of Danville.

THIS WAS a sufficient number to allow the annexation without a popular vote. According to Claude McPhee, district secretary, Danville moved toward annexation mainly to acquire sewer lines in the center of that community.

With a hearing on the board's decision probable in October, Danville is presently utilizing septic tanks for its sewerage needs.

In addition to Danville, the Waverly Farms and Unit 2 in Glenside Estates, both Lafayette, were also granted annexation to the district by the directors' vote.

THE RICHFIELD Oil station on the corner of Monument Boulevard and Lisa Lane, between Walnut Creek and Concord, was also voted into the district.

A request by the Union Oil Company for a right-of-way across the front of the district's treatment plant property was also granted. The oil company wishes to lay pipe line across the property.

In other business, the directors authorized examinations for draftsmen to fill a present vacancy. The examinations will be held on October 13, and applicants for the post are asked to contact the CCCSD.

TV Case Goes To Barristers

The National Community Television Association which serves the central county, has appealed to the State Supreme Court from a Public Utilities Commission ruling that the association is a public utility.

The ruling would make the association, and its rates, subject to the PUC. The appeal was filed by attorney Stratford Smith, who called the PUC decision an "illogical interpretation of the law."

The matter came to public attention when about 900 customers in the area complained that they were not getting adequate service.

The company is providing antenna service "piped in" where ordinary service antennas are not sufficient.

Therapy Center Goes Up--Aided By Contractors

Doing their bit toward finishing the new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center are masonry contractors James Waldie and Robert Baccus of Lafayette. They are making a substantial contribution in labor by accepting the contract to install the concrete block supplied at cost by the Basalite Company of Napa, Calif., according to Therapy Center officials.

"Heine" Gentry of the H. W. Gentry Company of Walnut Creek donated the mortar, steel and cement for the installation of the exterior blocks.

"This is another fine example of the community support which has made possible the construction of the new rehabilitation center serving Contra Costa County's physically handicapped," said James Simonds of the Therapy Center's Building Committee.

Ed Dorsey, job superintendent for the E. G. Romley contracting firm, explains that through the combined efforts of these companies, the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will make possible purchase of additional physical therapy equipment for the new Center.

Waldie and Baccus employees helping on this project are Joe Speaks, Thomas Stanley, Garry Wyant and Elmer Fisher.

THE NEW MT. DIABLO THERAPY CENTER is going up with the aid of contractors making donations of material and labor. Ed Dorsey (left), job superintendent for the E. G. Romley contracting firm, discusses plans with Robert Baccus (center) and James Waldie of Lafayette, contractors for installation of cement block.

Juvenile Hall Group Tells Urgent Needs

The "summer lull" has created an urgent need for materials and services to assist the staff at Juvenile Hall in their work with disturbed children, according to Mrs. F. P. Lonergan, president of the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

Among these are cakes and gifts for birthdays, stuffed dolls, blocks of assorted types (not necessarily new) and money to buy craft materials for the shelter children in Edgar Cottage.

In addition, volunteers with training in library skills, folk dancing, or who are willing to do mending of clothes or toys are also in demand. A new project list will be distributed soon, Mrs. Lonergan added, to the many interested clubs and organizations in the community who have done so much during the past year to show the children at the Hall that their "community cares."

IN SUMMARIZING the accomplishments of the year since the inception of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Alice Owesly, assistant superintendent of the Hall, stated that many committees have been productive.

The library group has done a tremendous job of sorting, mending, ordering and classifying boxes of books to make them accessible to the children. A grooming committee visited the girl's section twice a week except for the summer months.

A Concord organization had its members come once a week to do surplus mending. Curtains for most of the rooms, costumes for Hallowe'en, and cloth dolls were made by sewing groups.

The music, folk dancing and crafts program have continued all year with great success. A gardening committee helped construct a girls' playground, arranged flowers and decorations for the holidays. The religious services volunteers provided a pianist and necessary materials for the weekly services, both Catholic and Protestant.

THE TRANSPORTATION and holiday committee worked hardest through the Christmas season which was the big thrill of the year for both volunteers and children — the best in Juvenile Hall memory. Furnishings were provided for the girls' living area and the shelter and television sets were contributed and installed.

Mrs. Owesly added it would be impossible to list each accomplishment but expressed the staff's appreciation for everyone's help.

Tours of Juvenile Hall are scheduled for the first and third Fridays of each month at 10 a.m. and are open to the public. Organizations and individuals who wish to learn more about the Auxiliary may call Mrs. David Edwards, chairman of the Speakers Bureau, MU 5-5161 or Mrs. Charles Wagner, volunteer services director, YE 4-4086.

Youth's Big Job Is Peace, Student Essayist States

(The following essay on "Youth's Problems of the Future" was one of three which tied for first place in the annual composition writing contest on that subject conducted by the Orinda Lions Club among 1955's graduating eighth graders at Pine Grove School.—The Editor.)

By DONALD A. MINOR

Youth faces problems in the future as every generation of youth has done.

Many of our problems have been faced before, but past generations have failed to solve them.

Each generation of youth which has failed has made the burden far more difficult and complex for the next generation.

To list all of these problems would be an endless task. The most important ones, the world must have an answer to soon or there will be no world, are: convincing the world that peace is our only hope, and controlling the use of atomic energy.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY is a serious problem; it is only a new name for an old one. At one time it was referred to as "flaming youth."

Until all the young people in our own conntry respect the laws of our land and the people who live in it, there is little chance that we can convince the countries of the world to respect the laws and rights of other peoples.

Some juvenile delinquents come from slum areas in big cities, where they often get their start in crime because of poverty, lack of a good education and tough neighborhoods. However, other delinquents come from good families living in fine homes and getting the best of educations. They suffer sometimes from too many of the good things in life, just as the slum trouble makers from the lack of them.

RACIAL HATRED and prejudice have been a problem for centuries. The Civil War was supposed to have solved that problem for the United States. Events of 1956 prove that the probem is not solved, and the South does not want to recognize the Negro as an individual having equal rights as an American white person. The South was forced to free the slaves after the war, but they refused—sometimes openly, sometimes deliberately misinterpreting—the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Segregation has been their way of tolerating the Negro. On buses, in schools, in theaters the Negroes are separated from the whites. In many states it was easier and safer for the Negro to not vote than insist upon his rights to vote. But up until the 1930's no Negro sat on a jury in the South.

We must put our own country in order before we can set an example for the rest of the world.

The unrest in the Middle East—the Arabs and the Israeli for instance; the riots in Cyrus against British domination, and of course, the terrible threat of the communistic cloud that hangs over the world today make the youth's problem in the future very serious indeed.

UNTIL OUR generation can convince the world that we must get along together there is no hope of peace on earth.

Abraham Lincoln said, "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

If all the people in the world would believe in and live by these famous words we would have peace on earth.

ATOMIC ENERGY has become so important, so powerful, so wonderful, but yet so destructive, that we must have peace throughout the world to enjoy all the miraculous ways it can change our way of life.

Making atom bombs and hydrogen bombs is only a means to the end—the end of everything. In the future we will have to channel all of our talents into scientific research in atomic energy so that we may enjoy the better living it will provide.

We want planes powered by atomic energy, not war planes, but peace planes to carry people around the world safer and more rapidly. We want ships powered by atomic energy, not war ships, but passenger ships and freighters.

Our world has become very small, what with jet planes circling the globe in a very short time. Youth must provide the scientists of tomorrow to develop this tremendous new field in this so-called "Atomic Age."

WORLD PEACE has been talked about for many years but little progress has been made. Now the cause is so much greater because if we do not have world peace soon, there will not be much of a world left.

Until our generation can convince the world that we must get along with each other there is no hope of peace on earth.

"To live and let live," to be tolerant, to recognize every human being as on equal rights and privileges as everyone else — these things should be our goal.

If we can succeeed in abolishing hatred and greed throughout the world we will have done more than any generation in the past.

With the threat of the atomic bomb and the "H" bomb hanging over our heads, we must succeed.

Our problems can be summed up in a few words: No world peace, no world. It is up to us.

AFS Students Returning After Summer in Europe

Smed Ambler and Allen Shapiro, Acalanes High Seniors who have been in Europe this summer as exchange students under the American Field Service, are returning home this week.

After a gala week in Paris, during which they were royally entertained both by the French government and people, 693 of these young people sailed for home on the Arosa Kulm, docking in New York early this week.

Allen was greeted by his parents, the Marshall Shapiros, 18 La Vuelta, Orinda, and will tour New England with them before flying west.

Smed went directly to his grandmother's home in Oyster Bay, Long Island. He is driving to Miami, Ohio, with his aunt, Miss Elizabeth Ludlam, and will make the rest of the trip by air. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Ambler, 220 El Toyonal, Orinda.

Both boys spent the summer, not as typical tourists but as the guests of private families with whom they lived the life of the family and learned to speak their language and to understand better their customs and beliefs.

Each of the boys claims he hopes to return to Europe some day, Smed to the Anglarets of Lyon and the Stouffs of Marseilles, France, Allen to Bochum, Germany, and the Adams family and its many many friends.

Meanwhile, three foreign students brought to this community through its residents and service clubs are now an intrinsic part of the Acalanes student body, where they wil complete their senior year studies.

Elin Rasmussen of Denmark is living with the Carl Kalbfliesch family in Orinda.

The Fred Lincolns of Lafayette have welcomed Fritz Borst of Germany into their home and Maria Zarbonau has become a member of the Burwell Spurlock family, also of Lafayette.

Orinda Girls Launch Careers in Nursing

Well, after two weeks of freedom and travel, back to the typewriter again. In my estimation, there is nothing quite like a station wagon to fill the bill when there is the combination of children and travel. Leave a space in the back, and let them run.

HOT TIMES

Plenty of HOT weather in northern California. We — the three children, Linda, Becky and Mary, and myself — traveled to Yakima, Washington, to visit the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sargeant, for 5 days, then returned through some more hot weather.

To the relief of all, it was cool all during our stay in Yakima, even to the extent of having a rain storm, which is very unusual this time of year. No mishaps on the trip, even the proverbial flat tires waited until our return, when we had two.

A close brush with a deer in Klamath Falls, Oregon, only gives us a topic of conversation.

Upon our return, we proceeded on to the Oakland YMCA Summer Camp, La Honda, California, to spend an extremely enjoyable Labor Day weekend, at the annual Family Weekend.

Weather being perfect for vacationing, swimming, hiking and just plain loafing in the sun, was the order of the day, while the evenings were spent by the 200 odd at planned recreation, square dancing, campfires, movies for the children, and in general, enjoying the rare privilege of families doing and sharing pleasures together.

Square dancing, participated in by children and adults alike, was led by callers Fred Allen and wife Dorothy, who, for the information of those interested, are conducting square dance classes at the Oakland YMCA, 2102 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland.

A new class is scheduled to begin on the night of September 17. For further information, you can contact Roger Martin, program director, GL 1-5711.

DREAM COMES TRUE

After a very interesting and exciting five days, Bill Lance and son, Chuck, are ready to relax. Realizing a long standing dream, the two loaded their horses in the truck and took off for a pack trip to Kennedy Meadows, where, unloading the horses, they hired a pack-mule and traveled by horse back, into the mountains to Huckleberry Lake, and according to Chuck, enjoyed the most tremendous fishing, not to mention the most breathtaking scenery they have ever seen.

Although Bill and Chuck seem to be in prime condition, the horses look a bit thin. Guess they did all the work!

At a Mother's Club Director's meeting, held recently at the home of Mrs. Donna Cole, president, a program for the year was drawn up and committee chairmen appointed.

Program conissts of a short business meeting and planned program consistent with the season.

Chairmen appointed are: Membership, Mrs. Irene Rohrer; Refreshment, Mrs. Helen Griffith; Social, Mrs. Sarah Glasky; Welfare, Mrs. Louise Lynch; Publicity, Mrs. Eva Thune; Telephone, Mrs. Florence Huff, and Historian, Mrs. Jo Baitx.

On registration day at the Moraga Elementary School, 77 children were entered by parents, who came to meet new teachers and inspect the remodeled auditorium. Mr. Toll, principal, and three new teachers, Mrs. Ruth Larson, 1 and 2; Mrs. Mercedes Rossel, 3 and 4; Mrs. Eleanor Latham, 5 and 6 grades, were present to register and become acquainted with all visitors.

On the first day of school, buses running on schedule, 81 excited youngsters were present. More are expected before school registration is completed.

NEW SCHOOL LOOK

If you haven't already seen the new school room, which has been remodeled from the large auditorium, it would definitely be worth your while to see what a tremendous change can be accomplished. Soundproofed and colorful, it is advance notice of what we can expect in the new Moraga School, which we hope to complete before too long a time.

Hope you all have your mailboxes up and ready for use, as Rural Delivery started last Saturday morning. Our thanks to the Post Office Department and Congressman Baldwin, who gave us his support. Mail will be delivered to your homes.

Children attending morning kindergarten session at the Burton School, Lafayette, are Jackie Davis, Carol Caste, Elaine Tarpley, Stephen Thackery, John Adams, Chrissy Bisiar, Susy Pagliere, Jimmy Rogers, Jo Lynch, Mike Marin, Timothy MacDonald and Marleen Huff.

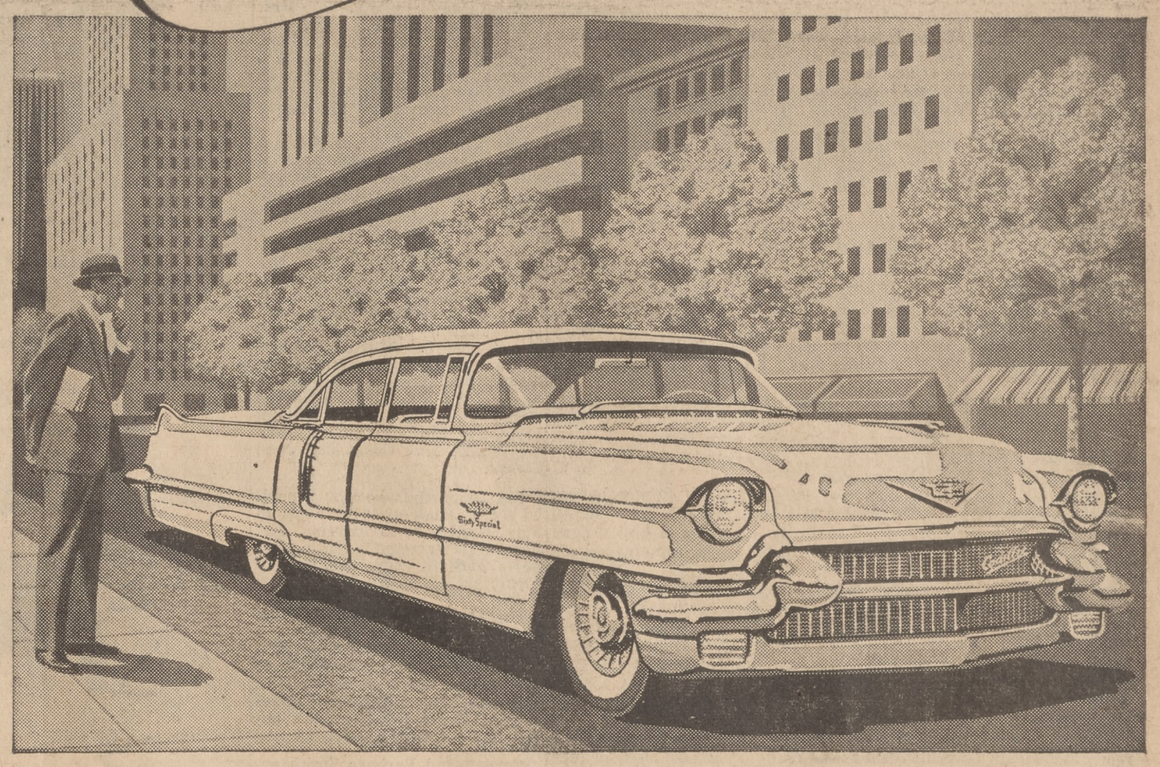
Cadillac



To the Man Who is Hesitating....

There are many motorists here in this community who have given serious consideration to the purchase of a new Cadillac car this year—and yet, for one reason or another, have not made the move.

If you are among them, we hope that you will pause to read the little message that follows. For we are sure you will find it interesting.

* * * *

Ordinarily, when a man hesitates to make the move to Cadillac, it is because he is not familiar with the practical aspects of Cadillac ownership.

Insofar as original cost is concerned, a Cadillac is eminently practical. Several models, in fact, are actually priced competitively with the so-called "medium-priced" makes.

Operating and maintenance costs are also remarkably low. We have heard it said by new owners that Cadillac is the most economical automobile they have ever owned.

And as for resale value—well, Cadillac traditionally retains a greater share of its worth through the years than any other motor car in the land.

In short, the great Cadillac car represents one of the wisest and soundest automotive investments on the highway today.

* * * *

The moral of our message is this: It is still not too late to set things right in a 1956 Cadillac of your own!

We have a selection of new Cadillacs on hand—and we can promise you both prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance.

Why not come in today?

The association also conducted a drive in local schools last year for funds to promote Columbia School Project, sponsored by the CTA (a project to reconstruct California's first school). Contributions were given by the association itself to various community groups.

Traffic Toll is Tax Burden

The high cost of the dire traffic toll, affecting every taxpayer in the county, was vividly told when directors of the Lafayette Green Cross, local unit of the National Safety Council, entertained a selected group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Smith, Upper Happy Valley, last Sunday over cocktails.

Dr. Otis Cobb of the board of the county Safety Council told of the cost in human disablement death and wrecked homes because of county traffic conditions.

He also spoke of the cost to the taxpayer because of the load on welfare services that it entails.

Dr. W. W. Ornduff, local board member, spoke on other phases of this grave matter.

To round out the discussion, Sheriff Harry A. Brown told of the extra burden to the taxpayer because of the increased cost of policing and traffic regulation costs.

LOCAL DUDES

Several Lafayette families are members of Carroll Ranch in Moraga and have been swimming at the pool thorughout the summer.

Among the families from Lafayette Valley who belong to Carroll Ranch are the Martin Fishers, Howard Smallridges, Walter Gilardis, Paul Giustas, Ken Meirstens, John Holmans William Kistens, John Holmans, William Kirkhams, Clifford Ruddens, Robert Bonds, Max Coons and John Shaws.

Bill Danforth, who was accepted for training at West Point in July, reports to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Danforth, that he is working very hard but enjoying his life at West Point very much.

The August meeting of the Burton Belles was held at the home of Vera Kelly. Adurey Simpkin a new neighbor, was introduced to the group which included Ann Knutson, Louise McKenna, Janet Ginger, Doris Gilardi, Jean Giusta and Jeanne Bellmer.

Gordon and Barbara Smith entertained their neighbors at a Sunday afternoon barbecue in August. The Smiths' neighbors who enjoyed the afternoon of fun and good food were Janet and Bill Ginger, Alice and Reiny Blaschek, Jean and Paul Giusta and Mary Ann and Harry O'Meara (former residents of Lafayette Valley).

Suburbia Scribblings

Rechauffe Soiree (Party rehash)

THE GRAND PRIX AT LONGCHAMPS had nothing on Don Gabriel Way last Sat. nite when PANDORA members and their guests congregated at CHEZ Gerhart Cooke for an early evening cocktail soiree to swell the coffers for Children's Home Society.

A string of colorful Japanese lanterns marked the maison whose jardin had been transformed into a CAFE PARISIENNE and here, near a brilliant flower stall, Eloise Banister in off-shoulder white w/sequins and pearls, greeted Diorish-dressed ladies whose escorts were presented w/carnation boutonierres. It didn't take long to get people into the parisian mood! (But it did take some time to get them out of it!)

FRENCH FLAGS AND GAY TRAVEL POSTERS were prominently displayed, the sidewalk cafe surrounding the lawn, decorated w/checkered cloth of red and white, red scalloped awnings. . . . A broad table dressed in restaurant cloth strewn w/straw baskets, holding all kinds of hors d'oeuvres, long loaves of French bread for show. . . . Soda-parlor chairs and tables inviting conversation by candlelight . . . The scent of sizzling chafing-dish couisinerie permeating the air.

A Fall christening of furs . . . Jean and Joe Downs, happy-talking about their Pebble Beach holiday, bound for a party at the Dick Kendalls, a mink wrap shouldering Jean's sheer sari dress . . . A fox stole for Darlene Byers there w/Jim, a mink wrap for Vera Price of Danville, tres chic in sapphire blue ensemble and chapeau.

REGARDEZ, HAUT MONDE . . . The Ed Landwehrs w/the Wayne Littlejohns . . . Kay Anderson, pretty in purple velvet, selling reels of tickets . . . Winnie and Bill Gilmore, the Bill Lees, Betty and Don Larue, Jack and Bee Van Gelder . . . the Albert McCanns . . . A fur-collared white cardigan for Phyllis Barton aiding her spouse Bob who was busy in the crepes-suzette dept. wearing a chef's hat and apron.

Le dernier cri in cars and coats

The Paul Winquists chatting w/Jewel Patten, Starr Simmons . . . The Vern Axelsons, Charles Ericksons, the Vern Wrights, their new white Thunderbird parked outside . . . Radiant in red and white, Louise Greathouse w/Ridge, trying to spot Milt and Helen Vallens due to stop in before hurrying off to their "DAMN YANKEES" seats. . . . Jim and Esther Anderson, Reg Smith planning on dinner at the Country Club.

Ooh, la, la! for Leonard Roth's Brooks Bros. coat of black, citron and light-blue plaid, causing no end of compliments . . . Ditto Les Freres Pedder . . . Jack in a head-turning coat, luggage tan and white, Bob's a handsome powderblue . . . The more than a few white coats making it a very festive party.

A window delightfully done as "LA BOTIQUE" where behind the glass, upon which lace curtains had been painted, sat a sumptuous array of door prizes . . . Villa De La Paix menus posted near the imaginary shop . . . Gen. Chrmn. Hazel Smith commended for her decor job.

Ruth Barchfield balancing a precarious tray of champagne glasses while John tended bar wearing an apron, monogrammed NOT w/a French motto, but "Engineers Beefsteak Club". . . . Q'est que c'est?

Hostess Ellen Cooke in white linen, spouse Gerry looking very relaxed after a week of wiring and woodwork to construct the cafe setting . . . Reese Payne dispensing drinks, Florence lending a hand w/the food . . . Prexy Marge Jeppson everywhere, Marie Gease in black and white from top to toe, chatting w/Merle Pyle.

Time out for ticket numbers . . . Molly Sullivan picking up what resembled an old Ford klaxon but was really a portable loud speaker over which she called for quiet, QUIET! Jeannette Wright claiming a prize w/an "I've got it" for her lucky stub!

A RED-BERETED, SMOCKED ARTISTE nom du Fritz, sketching caricatures, one of Dotty Carey, w/onlookers Shirley and Owen Jones, Bill and Marcia Heming, the Al Baers nearby.

C'EST SI BON . . . An early fat moon sitting on the fence, beaming beningly down on Caroline and Ed Walsh, the Andy Knudsens (Louise in decollete beige), Cliff and Mary Chappell, Marian and Jim Hendricksen, the Hugh McIntyres.

Stadium partners, s'il vous plait

Jane and Bill Courtright serving up a salmon buffet afterwards to their fishing confreres, the Jim Hills, Karl Rigors, John Parkers who all got up at 3:30 one Sunday recently (when they're usually just going tobe d) to have a day on SF bay . . . Bill getting the biggest catch, two 25-lbers.

The Jack Coopers (she in a frock pretty as a rainbow popsicle) recognized the John Gunters from San Mateo as their stadimu-seat neighbors (Sec. M, Row 13!) from the 49-ers Games . . . The Gunters were guests of Ralph and Margy Bowen.

The Harold Ohleyers, Bud Coburns, Jack Reillys in a group going out to "Chubby Clayton's" for dinner . . . Late arrivals, the Jim Danas, the Kenneth St. Clairs. The Matt Hammonds (a fur wrap hugging her shoulders) joining the William Douglasses for gourmet fare in SF.

THE MOON RISING HIGH, w/a Chevalier wink, the last of 400 guests finally departing for very late dining.

Missing the party, member Bee Hendrickson, who has accompanied Bob East on a business trip, mixing in a little pleasure w/a visit home to Ridgewood, New Jersey.

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME . . . Our local Portia, (lady lawyer Gladys Schwatka) driving a new pink and oyster-white Dodge, rose petit-point upholstered, and bearing a chrome crest, "LA FEMME" . . . A dream-job dreamed up by Dodge for milady motorists!

L'ETUDE BALLET, Pantomine and Eurythmitics in London and PARIS this summer for Linda Hickox, daughter of the Phil Hickox of Camino Eninas, who is home from a 2½ mo. tour of Europe w/six weeks there devoted to a dance-study tour.

Linda, whose outdoor concert by her pupils in the Dance Cooperative was so different and successful last June, will resume classes under the auspices of Orinda Art Center the last week of September! C'EST TOUT! (French professors, our apologies! VIVA LA FRANCE!).
